

Al-Muwatta

Al-Muwatta of Imām Mālik

Translated by Aisha Abdurrahman Bewley and Yaqub Johnson

DIWAN  PRESS

Classical and Contemporary Books on Islam and Sufism

Copyright © Diwan Press Ltd., 2014 CE/1435 AH

Al-Muwatta

Published by: Diwan Press Ltd.
6 Terrace Walk,
Norwich
NR1 3JD
UK
Website: www.diwanpress.com
E-mail: info@diwanpress.com

All rights reserved. No part of this publication may be reproduced, stored in any retrieval system or transmitted in any form or by any means, electronic, mechanical, photocopying, recording or otherwise without the prior permission of the publishers.

Author: Malik ibn Anas
Translation: Aisha Bewley
Typeset by: Abdassamad Clarke
Cover design by: Abdassamad Clarke

A catalogue record of this book is available from the British Library.

ISBN-13: 978-1-908892-35-5 (paperback)
978-1-908892-36-2 (hardback)

Printed and bound by: XXXXXXXXXXXXXXXX

Contents

ENDORSEMENT BY DR. ZAKI BADAWI	xxvi
INTRODUCTION	xxix
The lineage of Imām Mālik, his family, birth and autobiography	xxx
His quest for knowledge	xxxix
People’s praise of him and their testimony that he was the greatest of the Imāms in knowledge	xxxiii
The shaykhs from whom he transmitted	xxxvii
The transmitters who transmitted from him	xxxviii
The position of the Muwatta’ and people’s concern for it	xxxix
Clarification of the meaning of “ Muwatta’ ”, its excellent layout and fine style	xlii
1. THE TIMES OF PRAYER	1
1.1 The times of prayer	1
1.2 The time of the jumu’a prayer	4
1.3 Whoever catches a rak’a of the ṣalāh	4
1.4 Dulūk ash-shams and ghasaq al-layl	5
1.5 The times of prayer in general	5
1.6 Sleeping through the prayer	6
1.7 Not doing the prayer at the hottest hour of the day	7
1.8 Not entering the mosque smelling of garlic and not covering the mouth in prayer	8
2. BOOK OF PURITY	9
2.1 How to perform wuḍū’	9
2.2 Wuḍū’ for praying after sleep	10
2.3 What is pure for wuḍū’	11
2.4 Things which do not break wuḍū’	12
2.5 Not doing wuḍū’ on account of eating cooked food	13
2.6 Wuḍū’ in general	14
2.7 Wiping the head and ears	17
2.8 Wiping over leather socks	17

AL-MUWAṬṬA

2.9 How to wipe over leather socks	19
2.10 Nosebleeds in the prayer	19
2.11 Nosebleeds in general	20
2.12 Bleeding from a wound or a nosebleed	20
2.13 Wuḍū' on account of prostatic fluid	20
2.14 Indulgence about not having to do wuḍū' on account of prostatic fluid	21
2.15 Wuḍū' on account of touching the genitals	21
2.16 Wuḍū' on account of a man kissing his wife	22
2.17 How to perform ghusl on account of major ritual impurity	23
2.18 Ghusl from the two "circumcised parts" meeting	24
2.19 Wuḍū' of a person in a state of major ritual impurity ( janāba ) when he wants to go to sleep or eat before having a ghusl	25
2.20 The repetition of the prayer by a person in a state of major ritual impurity, his doing ghusl when he has prayed without remembering it, and his washing his garments	25
2.21 Ghusl of a woman when she experiences the same as a man in her sleep	27
2.22 Ghusl for major ritual impurity	27
2.23 Tayammum	28
2.24 How to do tayammum	29
2.25 Tayammum of someone in a state of major ritual impurity	30
2.26 What is permitted to a man from his wife when she is menstruating	30
2.27 The purity of a woman after menstruation	31
2.28 Menstruation in general	32
2.29 Bleeding as if menstruating	32
2.30 The urine of an infant boy	33
2.31 Urinating standing and otherwise	34
2.32 The tooth-stick ( siwāk )	34
3. PRAYER	36
3.1 The call to prayer	36
3.2 The adhān on a journey and without wuḍū'	39
3.3 The meal before dawn ( sahūr ) in relation to the adhān	39
3.4 The opening of the prayer	40
3.5 The recitation of Qur'ān in the Maghrib and 'Ishā' prayers	41
3.6 Behaviour in the recitation	42
3.7 The recitation in the Ṣubḥ prayer	43
3.8 The Umm al-Qur'ān	44
3.9 Reciting to oneself behind the imām when he does not recite aloud	45
3.10 Not reciting behind the imām when he recites aloud	46
3.11 Saying ' amīn ' behind the imām	46
3.12 Behaviour in the sitting in the prayer	47
3.13 Tashahhud in the prayer	48
3.14 What to do if one raises one's head before the imām	50

3.15 What to do if through forgetfulness one says the taslīm after two rak'as	51
3.16 Completing what is recalled when uncertain how much has been prayed	52
3.17 What to do if one stands after the completion of the prayer or after two rak'as	52
3.18 Distraction in the prayer	53
4. FORGETFULNESS IN THE PRAYER	55
4.1 What to do if one forgets in prayer	55
5. JUMU'A	56
5.1 Ghusl on the day of jumu'a	56
5.2 Paying attention when the imām is giving the khutba on the day of jumu'a	57
5.3 Catching a rak'a of the jumu'a prayer	58
5.4 Nose-bleeds on the day of jumu'a	59
5.5 Making haste on the day of jumu'a	59
5.6 The Imām's stopping off in a town on the day of jumu'a	60
5.7 The special time in the day of jumu'a	60
5.8 Good appearance and not stepping over people and facing the imām on the day of jumu'a	62
5.9 The recitation in the jumu'a prayer, the sitting, and missing the prayer without a reason	62
6. PRAYER IN RAMADAN	63
6.1 Stimulation of the desire for prayer in Ramaḍān	63
6.2 Praying at night during Ramaḍān	63
7. TAHAJJUD	65
7.1 Concerning prayer in the night	65
7.2 How the Prophet ﷺ prayed the witr	66
7.3 The command to pray the witr	68
7.4 Praying the witr after the break of dawn	70
7.5 The two rak'as of Fajr	71
8. PRAYER IN CONGREGATION	72
8.1 The superiority of prayer in congregation over prayer alone	72
8.2 The 'Ishā' and Ṣubḥ prayers	73
8.3 Repeating the prayer with the imām	74
8.4 Praying in a group of people	75
8.5 Prayer behind an imām when he prays sitting	75
8.6 The excellence of prayer standing over prayer sitting	76
8.7 Praying voluntary prayers ( nawāfil )	77
8.8 The middle prayer	77
8.9 Permission to pray in one garment	78

8.10 Permission for a woman to pray in a shift and head-covering	79
9. SHORTENING THE PRAYER	80
9.1 Joining two prayers when settled and when travelling	80
9.2 Shortening the prayer in travel	81
9.3 Circumstances in which the prayer has to be shortened	82
9.4 The prayer of a traveller when undecided whether to remain in a place or not	83
9.5 Doing the full prayer when one decides to remain in a place	83
9.6 The prayer of a traveller when acting as imām, or when praying behind an imām	84
9.7 Voluntary prayers while travelling, by day and at night, and praying on a riding beast	84
9.8 The Duḥā prayer	85
9.9 General remarks about the voluntary prayer of Duḥā	86
9.10 Strong warning against passing in front of a person praying	86
9.11 Permission to pass in front of someone praying	87
9.12 The sutra of a traveller praying	88
9.13 Brushing away small stones in the prayer	88
9.14 Straightening the rows	89
9.15 Placing one hand on the other in the prayer	89
9.16 Qunūt in the Ṣubḥ prayer	89
9.17 Prohibition against a man praying when wishing to relieve himself	90
9.18 Waiting for the prayer and walking to it	90
9.19 Placing the hands flat on the surface by the face in prostration	91
9.20 Turning around and clapping when necessary during the prayer	92
9.21 Joining the prayer while the imām is in rukūʿ	93
9.22 The prayer on the Prophet ﷺ	93
9.23 How to perform the prayer in general	94
9.24 Prayer in general	96
9.25 Stimulation of the desire for prayer in general	99
10. THE TWO ʿĪDS	101
10.1 Ghusl for the two ʿĪds, the call to prayer for them, and the iqāma	101
10.2 The order to pray before the khuṭba on the two ʿĪds	101
10.3 The order to eat before going out on the morning of the ʿĪd	102
10.4 The takbīrs and the recitation in the prayer of the two ʿĪds	102
10.5 Refraining from praying before and after the two ʿĪd prayers	103
10.6 Permission to pray before and after the two ʿĪd prayers	103
10.7 The coming of the imām on the Day of the ʿĪd and waiting for the khuṭba	103
11. THE FEAR PRAYER	105
11.1 The Fear Prayer	105

12. THE ECLIPSE PRAYER	107
12.1 How to pray the Eclipse Prayer	107
12.2 About the Eclipse Prayer	109
13. PRAYING FOR RAIN	110
13.1 How to pray for rain	110
13.2 What is reported about praying for rain	110
13.3 About asking the stars for rain	111
14. THE QIBLA	113
14.1 The prohibition against relieving oneself facing the qibla	113
14.2 Permission to face the qibla when urinating or defecating	113
14.3 The prohibition of spitting towards the Qibla	114
14.4 About the qibla	114
14.5 The Mosque of the Prophet	115
14.6 Women going out to the mosque	115
15. THE QUR'ĀN	117
15.1 The command to be in wuḍū' (when touching the Qur'ān)	117
15.2 Allowance to recite the Qur'ān while not in wuḍū'	117
15.3 The division of the Qur'ān into sections ( ḥizbs )	118
15.4 About the Qur'ān	118
15.5 The prostration of the Qur'ān	120
15.6 About reciting Sūrat al-Ikhlās and Sūrat al-Mulk	122
15.7 Dhikr (Remembrance) of Allah, the Blessed and Exalted	122
15.8 Du'ā' (supplication)	124
15.9 Making supplication ( du'ā' )	127
15.10 Prayer forbidden after Ṣubḥ and after ʿAṣr	128
16. BURIALS	130
16.1 Washing the dead	130
16.2 Shrouding the dead	131
16.3 Preceding the bier	131
16.4 The prohibition against following the bier with a burning torch	132
16.5 The takbīrs in funerals	132
16.6 What to say in the prayer for the dead	133
16.7 Permission to pray over the dead after Ṣubḥ until the dawn is clear and after ʿAṣr until the sun turns yellow	134
16.8 Doing the prayer for the dead in mosques	134
16.9 The prayer over the dead in general	134
16.10 Burying the dead	135
16.11 Stopping for funerals and sitting in graveyards	136
16.12 The prohibition of weeping over the dead	136
16.13 Fortitude in the face of misfortune	137
16.14 Fortitude in the face of misfortune generally	138
16.15 Exhumation	139

16.16 Burial in general	139
17. ZAKĀT	143
17.1 Things subject to zakāt	143
17.2 The zakāt on gold and silver coins	143
17.3 Zakāt on mines	146
17.4 Zakāt on buried treasure ( rikāz )	147
17.5 Non-zakatable items of jewelry, bits of gold and silver, and amber	147
17.6 Zakāt on the property of orphans and trading for orphans	148
17.7 Zakāt on inheritance	148
17.8 Zakāt on debts	149
17.9 Zakāt on merchandise	150
17.10 Wealth which has been hidden away ( kanz )	152
17.11 Zakāt on livestock	152
17.12 Zakāt on cattle	153
17.13 Zakāt of associates	156
17.14 Counting lambs and kids when assessing zakāt	157
17.15 Zakāt when two years are assessed together	159
17.16 The prohibition of making things difficult for people in taking zakāt	159
17.17 Receiving zakāt , and who is permitted to receive it	160
17.18 Collecting zakāt and being firm in doing so	160
17.19 Zakāt on estimated yields of date-palms and vines	161
17.20 Zakāt on seeds and olives	163
17.21 Non-zakatable fruits	164
17.22 Non-zakatable fruits, animal fodder and vegetables	166
17.23 Zakāt on slaves, horses and honey	166
17.24 Jizya imposed on the People of the Book and Magians	167
17.25 The ‘ushr for the People of Dhimma	169
17.26 Selling sadaqa and taking it back	169
17.27 Who pays the Zakāt al-Fitr	170
17.28 Measuring the Zakāt al-Fitr	171
17.29 When to send the Zakāt al-Fitr	171
17.30 People who are not obliged to pay the Zakāt al-Fitr	172
18. FASTING	173
18.1 Sighting the new moon for beginning and ending the fast of Ramaḍān	173
18.2 Making the intention to fast before dawn	174
18.3 Being quick to break the fast	174
18.4 Fasting when someone finds himself in janāba in the morning during Ramaḍān	175
18.5 Permission for a fasting man to kiss	176
18.6 Being strict about kissing when fasting	178
18.7 Fasting while travelling	178

18.8	Returning from a journey in Ramaḍān and intention to travel in Ramaḍān	179
18.9	Kaffāra (making amends) for breaking the fast in Ramaḍān	180
18.10	Cupping a man who is fasting	181
18.11	Fasting the Day of ‘Āshūrā (the 10th of Muḥarram)	181
18.12	Fasting the Days of Fīṭr and Adhā and fasting continuously	182
18.13	The prohibition against fasting for two days or more without breaking the fast in between ( wiṣāl )	183
18.14	Fasting on account of manslaughter or for pronouncing the zihār form of divorce	183
18.15	Illness and the fast	184
18.16	The vow to fast, and fasting on behalf of a dead person	184
18.17	Making up days missed in Ramaḍān, and the kaffāra	185
18.18	Making up voluntary fasts	187
18.19	The fiḍya (compensation) for breaking the fast in Ramaḍān for a reason	188
18.20	Making up days of Ramaḍān in general	189
18.21	Fasting the “Day of Doubt”	189
18.22	The Fast in General	190
19.	I’TIKĀF IN RAMAḌĀN	192
19.1	Concerning i’tikāf (retreat)	192
19.2	Essentials of i’tikāf	194
19.3	Leaving i’tikāf for the ‘Īd	194
19.4	Making up for the i’tikāf (not done)	195
19.5	Marriage in i’tikāf	196
19.6	Laylat al-Qadr (The Night of Power)	197
20.	ḤAJJ	199
20.1	The ghuṣl of iḥrām	199
20.2	Ghuṣl in iḥrām	199
20.3	Clothes forbidden in iḥrām	201
20.4	Clothes worn in iḥrām	201
20.5	Wearing a belt in iḥrām	202
20.6	Veiling the face in iḥrām	202
20.7	Wearing perfume during ḥajj	203
20.8	Points of entry for iḥrām ( mawāqīt )	204
20.9	The method of entering iḥrām	205
20.10	Raising the voice in talbiya	207
20.11	Ḥajj al-ifrād	207
20.12	Performing ḥajj and ‘umra together ( Ḥajj al-Qirān )	208
20.13	When to stop the talbiya	209
20.14	How the people of Makka, and those besides them living there, go into iḥrām	211
20.15	Situations when iḥrām is not obligatory for garlanding sacrificial animals	212

AL-MUWAṬṬA

20.16	Menstruating women on ḥajj	213
20.17	' Umra in the months of ḥajj	213
20.18	When to stop saying the talbiya for ' umra	214
20.19	Hajj at-Tamattu'	214
20.20	Circumstances in which tamattu' is not obligatory	216
20.21	About ' umra in general	216
20.22	Marriage while in iḥrām	218
20.23	Cupping while in iḥrām	219
20.24	Game that can be eaten by someone who is in iḥrām	219
20.25	Game that is not lawful to eat while in iḥrām	222
20.26	Hunting in the Haram	223
20.27	Assessing the forfeit for hunting game animals	223
20.28	Animals that someone in iḥrām can kill	224
20.29	Things that someone in iḥrām is allowed to do	225
20.30	Performing the ḥajj for somebody else	226
20.31	Someone whose path (to the House) is blocked by an enemy	226
20.32	Someone who is prevented (from going to the House) by something other than an enemy	227
20.33	Building the Ka'ba	229
20.34	Hastening ( raml ) in the tawāf	230
20.35	Saluting the corners during tawāf	231
20.36	Kissing the corner of the Black Stone when saluting the corners	231
20.37	The two rak'as of tawāf	232
20.38	Praying after Ṣubḥ and ' Aṣr when doing tawāf	233
20.39	Taking leave of the House	233
20.40	Tawāf in general	234
20.41	Starting with Safā in the sa'y	235
20.42	Sa'y in general	236
20.43	Fasting the Day of 'Arafa	237
20.44	Fasting on the Days of Minā	238
20.45	What are acceptable as sacrificial animals ( hadys )	239
20.46	Treatment of sacrificial animals while being driven to sacrifice	240
20.47	Injury to sacrificial animals or their loss	241
20.48	The animal to be sacrificed on account of intercourse in iḥrām	242
20.49	The animal to be sacrificed on account of missing the ḥajj	243
20.50	Intercourse before the Tawāf al-Ifāda	244
20.51	The sacrificial animals considered least difficult	245
20.52	Sacrificial animals in general	246
20.53	The wuqūf (standing) at 'Arafa and Muzdalifa	247
20.54	Wuqūf while not in wuḍū' , and wuqūf on a riding beast	248
20.55	The wuqūf at 'Arafa of someone who misses the ḥajj	249
20.56	Sending women and children ahead	249
20.57	Going from 'Arafa to Muzdalifa	250
20.58	Sacrificing during the ḥajj	250
20.59	How to make the sacrifice	251
20.60	Shaving the head	252

20.61 Cutting the Hair	253
20.62 Gumming the hair	254
20.63 Performing the prayer in the House, shortening the prayer, and hastening the khutba at ‘Arafa	254
20.64 Performing the prayer at Minā on the eighth day of Dhū al- Ḥijja, and the jumu‘a at Minā and ‘Arafa	255
20.65 Performing the prayer at Muzdalifa	255
20.66 Performing the prayer at Minā	256
20.67 The prayer of a visitor to Makka or Minā	257
20.68 Saying the takbīr during the Days of Tashrīq	257
20.69 Performing the prayer at al-Mu‘arras and al-Muḥaṣṣab	258
20.70 Staying overnight at Makka on the nights of Minā	259
20.71 Stoning the jamras	259
20.72 Indulgence with respect to stoning the jamras	260
20.73 The Ṭawāf al-Ifāda	261
20.74 A menstruating woman’s entering Makka	262
20.75 The Ṭawāf al-Ifāda of a menstruating woman	263
20.76 The compensation ( fidya ) for killing birds and wild animals while in iḥrām	265
20.77 The fidya for killing locusts in iḥrām	266
20.78 The fidya for shaving the head before sacrificing	266
20.79 Forgetfulness in the rituals	268
20.80 Compensation ( fidya ) in general	268
20.81 The ḥajj in general	269
20.82 The ḥajj of a woman without a mahram	272
20.83 Fasting in Ḥajj at-Tamattu‘	273
21. JIHĀD	274
21.1 Stimulation of desire for jihād	274
21.2 Prohibition against travelling with the Qur’ān in enemy territory	275
21.3 The prohibition against killing women and children in military expeditions	276
21.4 Fulfilling safe conduct	277
21.5 Giving in the Way of Allah	277
21.6 Booty from war in general	278
21.7 Things on which the tax of one-fifth ( khums ) is not obligatory	278
21.8 What it is permissible for the Muslims to eat before the spoils are divided	279
21.9 Returning enemy plunder to the owner before the division of the spoils	279
21.10 Stripping the slain of their personal effects in the booty	281
21.11 Awarding extra portions from the fifth ( khums )	282
21.12 The share of the spoils allotted to cavalry in military expeditions	283
21.13 Stealing from the spoils	283
21.14 Martyrs in the Way of Allah	285
21.15 Things in which martyrdom lies	287

AL-MUWAṬṬA

21.16 How to wash a martyr	287
21.17 What is disliked to be done with something given in the Way of Allah	287
21.18 Stimulation of desire for jihād	288
21.19 Horses and racing them and financing in military expeditions	289
21.20 Acquisition of the land of dhimmīs who surrender	291
21.21 Burial in one grave by necessity and Abū Bakr's carrying out the promise of the Messenger of Allah ﷺ after the death of the Messenger ﷺ	291
22. VOWS AND OATHS	292
22.1 Fulfilling vows to walk	292
22.2 Making vows to walk to the House and not succeeding	293
22.3 How to fulfill the oath of walking to the Ka'ba	294
22.4 Vows not permitted in disobedience to Allah	294
22.5 Inadvertence in oaths	295
22.6 Oaths for which kaffāra is not obligatory	296
22.7 Oaths for which kaffāra is obligatory	296
22.8 What is done regarding the kaffāra of a broken oath	297
22.9 Oaths in general	298
23. SACRIFICIAL ANIMALS	300
23.1 Animals avoided as sacrifices	300
23.2 Animals desirable as sacrifices	300
23.3 Prohibition against sacrificing an animal before the imām finishes	301
23.4 Storing meat from sacrificial animals	301
23.5 Sharing sacrificial animals	302
23.6 The sacrificial animal for the child in the womb and mention of the Days of Sacrifice	303
24. SLAUGHTERING ANIMALS	304
24.1 Saying the Name of Allah over the slaughtered animal	304
24.2 Methods of slaughter permitted in necessity	304
24.3 What is disapproved of in slaughtering animals	305
24.4 Slaughtering what is in the womb of a slaughtered animal	305
25. GAME	307
25.1 Eating game killed with throwing sticks and by stones	307
25.2 Game caught by trained dogs	308
25.3 Catching sea animals	309
25.4 Prohibition against eating animals with fangs	310
25.5 What is disapproved of regarding eating riding animals	310
25.6 Using the skin of animals found dead	311
25.7 Eating carrion when forced to, out of necessity	311

26. THE ‘AQĪQA	313
26.1 About the ‘ aqīqa	313
26.2 Behaviour in the ‘ aqīqa	313
27. FIXED SHARES OF INHERITANCE	315
27.1 Inheritance of direct descendants	315
27.2 Inheritance of husbands from wives and wives from husbands	316
27.3 Inheritance of fathers and mothers from children	317
27.4 Inheritance of maternal half-siblings	317
27.5 Inheritance of full-siblings	318
27.6 Inheritance of paternal half-siblings	319
27.7 Inheritance of grandfathers	319
27.8 Inheritance of grandmothers	321
27.9 Inheritance of persons without parents or offspring	323
27.10 Paternal aunts	324
27.11 Inheritance of paternal relations ( ‘aṣaba )	325
27.12 People who do not inherit	326
27.13 Inheritance from the people of other religions	326
27.14 People killed in battle or otherwise whose situation in inheritance is not known	328
27.15 The inheritance of the child of li‘ān and the child of fornication	329
28. MARRIAGE	330
28.1 Asking for someone’s hand in marriage	330
28.2 Asking the consent of virgins and women previously married	331
28.3 The bride-price and unreturnable gifts	331
28.4 Consummating a marriage	334
28.5 Wedding nights of virgins and of women previously married	334
28.6 Stipulations not permitted in marriage	335
28.7 Marriage of a muḥallil and its like	335
28.8 Combinations of women not to be married together	336
28.9 Prohibition against marrying mothers of wives	336
28.10 Marriage to mothers of women with whom one has had sexual relations in a disapproved manner	337
28.11 What is not permitted in marriage in general	338
28.12 Marrying slaves when already married to free women	339
28.13 A man’s owning a slave whom he has married and then divorced	340
28.14 Reprehensibility of intercourse with two sisters or a mother and daughter that one owns	341
28.15 Prohibition against intercourse with a slave-girl who belonged to one’s father	341
28.16 Prohibition against marrying slave-girls who are People of the Book	342
28.17 Muḥsanāt	343
28.18 Temporary marriage	343
28.19 Marriage of slaves	344

AL-MUWAṬṬA

28.20 The marriage of idolators when their wives become Muslim before them	345
28.21 The wedding feast	346
28.22 Marriage in general	347
29. DIVORCE	349
29.1 The 'irrevocable' divorce	349
29.2 Divorce by euphemistic statements	350
29.3 Giving wives the right of full divorce	351
29.4 When a wife's authority must be considered as only a single pronouncement of divorce	352
29.5 When allowing a wife her authority does not constitute a divorce	353
29.6 Annulment of marriage by the husband's vow to refrain from intercourse ( īlā' )	354
29.7 The īlā' (vow of abstention) of slaves	356
29.8 Ṣihār of freemen	356
29.9 Ṣihār done by slaves	358
29.10 The option (of slave-girls married to slaves when freed)	358
29.11 Separating from wives for compensation ( khul' )	360
29.12 The khul' divorce	360
29.13 Li'ān (invoking mutual curses)	361
29.14 Inheritance of children of women against whom li'ān has been pronounced	364
29.15 Divorce of virgins	364
29.16 Divorce of sick men	365
29.17 Compensatory gift after divorce	367
29.18 The divorce of a slave	367
29.19 Maintenance of slave-girls divorced when pregnant	368
29.20 Idda of women with missing husbands	368
29.21 Idda of divorce and divorce of menstruating women	369
29.22 Idda of women in their houses when divorced in them	371
29.23 Maintenance of divorced women	372
29.24 Idda of slave-girls divorced by their husbands	373
29.25 General chapter on idda of divorce	373
29.26 The two arbiters	374
29.27 Oath of men to divorce while not yet married	375
29.28 Deadline of men who do not have intercourse with their wives	375
29.29 General section on divorce	376
29.30 Idda of widows when pregnant	378
29.31 Widows remaining in their houses until free to marry	379
29.32 Idda of an umm walad on her master's death	380
29.33 Idda of slave-girls whose master or husband dies	381
29.34 Coitus interruptus	382
29.35 Limit of abstaining from adornment in mourning	383

30. SUCKLING	386
30.1 Suckling of the young	386
30.2 Suckling of older people	388
30.3 Suckling in general	390
31. BUSINESS TRANSACTIONS	391
31.1 Non-returnable deposits ( ‘urbūn )	391
31.2 Wealth of slaves	393
31.3 Built-in liability agreements	393
31.4 Defects in slaves	394
31.5 The purchase of slave-girls with conditions attached	396
31.6 Prohibition against intercourse with married slave-girls	397
31.7 Ownership of the fruit of trees sold	397
31.8 Prohibition against selling fruit until starting to ripen	397
31.9 The sale of ‘ariyyas	398
31.10 The effect of crop damage on the sale of agricultural produce	399
31.11 Keeping back a portion of the fruit	400
31.12 Disapproved practices in the sale of dates	400
31.13 Muzābana and muḥāqala	401
31.14 General remarks about selling produce at its source	403
31.15 Selling fruit	405
31.16 Selling gold for silver, minted and unminted	406
31.17 Money-changing	408
31.18 Selling gold for gold and silver for silver by weight	409
31.19 Buying on delayed terms and re-selling for less on more immediate terms	411
31.20 What is disapproved of in selling food with delayed payment or delivery	413
31.21 Pre-payment on food	413
31.22 Bartering food for food with no increase between them	415
31.23 General section on selling food	417
31.24 Hoarding and raising prices by stockpiling	419
31.25 What is permitted in bartering animals for other animals and advances on animals	420
31.26 What is not permitted in the sale of animals	421
31.27 Selling animals in exchange for meat	422
31.28 Selling meat for meat	422
31.29 Selling dogs	423
31.30 Advance and sale of some goods for others	423
31.31 An advance on goods	424
31.32 Selling weighable items like copper and iron and similar things	426
31.33 Prohibition against two sales in one	427
31.34 Transactions with uncertainty in them	428
31.35 Al-mulāmasa and al-munābadha	429
31.36 Murābaha transactions (partnership between investors and borrowers in profit-sharing re-sales)	430

AL-MUWAṬṬA

31.37 Sales according to a list of contents	432
31.38 The right of withdrawal ( khiyār )	432
31.39 Usury in debts	433
31.40 Debts and transfer of debts in general	434
31.41 Partnership, transferral of responsibility to an agent and revocation	436
31.42 Bankruptcy of debtors	437
31.43 What is permitted of free loans	439
31.44 What is not permitted of free loans	440
31.45 What is forbidden of haggling and such transactions	441
31.46 Business transactions in general	442
32. QIRĀḌ	444
32.1 Qirāḍ	444
32.2 What is permitted in qirāḍ	445
32.3 What is not permitted in qirāḍ	445
32.4 Conditions permitted in qirāḍ	446
32.5 Conditions not permitted in qirāḍ	447
32.6 Qirāḍ in Wares	449
32.7 Hire in qirāḍ	449
32.8 Overstepping in qirāḍ	450
32.9 Expenses permitted in qirāḍ	451
32.10 Expenses not permitted in qirāḍ	451
32.11 Debts in qirāḍ	452
32.12 Goods in qirāḍ	452
32.13 Loans in qirāḍ	453
32.14 Accounting in qirāḍ	454
32.15 A general view of qirāḍ	455
33. CROPSHARING	457
33.1 Cropsharing	457
33.2 The condition about slaves in cropsharing	462
34. RENTING LAND	464
34.1 Renting land	464
35. PRE-EMPTION IN PROPERTY	466
35.1 Cases in which pre-emption is possible	466
35.2 Cases in which pre-emption is not possible	469
36. JUDGEMENTS	471
36.1 Stimulation of desire to judge correctly	471
36.2 Giving testimony	471
36.3 Judgement on testimony of those who have received ḥadd - punishments	472

36.4 Judgement based on oaths along with the testimony of a single witness	473
36.5 Judgement on a deceased with a debt against him and a debt for him and only one witness	476
36.6 Judgement on claims	476
36.7 Judgement on the testimony of children	476
36.8 Perjury on the minbar of the Prophet	477
36.9 Taking oaths on the minbar in general	477
36.10 Prohibition against forfeiting pledges given on security	478
36.11 Judgement on pledging fruit and animals as security	478
36.12 Judgement on pledging animals as security	479
36.13 Judgement on pledges shared between two men	480
36.14 Judgement on pledges in general	480
36.15 Judgement on renting animals and going beyond specified destinations	482
36.16 Judgement about raped women	483
36.17 Judgement on consuming other people's animals	483
36.18 Judgement on the abandonment of Islam	484
36.19 Judgement on men finding other men with their wives	485
36.20 Judgement on the abandoned child	485
36.21 Judgement on attaching paternity to children	486
36.22 Judgement on inheritance of attached children	487
36.23 Judgement on women who are umm walad	488
36.24 Judgement on bringing barren land into cultivation	489
36.25 Judgement on watering land	489
36.26 Judgement on benefiting neighbours	490
36.27 Judgement on division of properties	490
36.28 Judgement on animals grazing on other people's crops and animals stolen from the herd	491
36.29 Judgement on injuries to domestic animals	492
36.30 Judgement regarding articles given to artisans to work on	492
36.31 Judgement on taking on debts and transfers of debts	492
36.32 Judgement on garments bought which have defects	493
36.33 What is not permitted in giving gifts (1)	494
36.34 What is not permitted in giving gifts (2)	495
36.35 Judgement on gifts	495
36.36 Taking back sadaqa	496
36.37 Judgement on life grants	496
36.38 The ruling on lost property which is found	497
36.39 Judgement on slaves using finds	498
36.40 Judgement on strays	498
36.41 Sadaqa of the living for the dead	499
37. WILLS AND TESTAMENTS	500
37.1 The command to write wills	500
37.2 Permissibility of bequests made by children, simpletons, lunatics

AL-MUWAṬṬA

and idiots	501
37.3 Limiting bequests to one-third of the estate	501
37.4 Dealing with the property of a pregnant woman, a sick person and someone present in battle	503
37.5 Bequests to heirs and right of possession	503
37.6 Effeminate men and the custody of children	505
37.7 Liability for defective goods	505
37.8 General chapter on rendering judgement and aversion to it	506
37.9 Damages and injuries caused by slaves	507
37.10 What is permitted in gifts	508
38. SETTING FREE AND WALĀ'	509
38.1 Freeing a share held in a slave	509
38.2 Making conditions when freeing a slave	510
38.3 People who free slaves and own no other property	510
38.4 Judgement on the property of slaves when they are set free	511
38.5 Freeing slaves who are umm walads and a general section on freeing	512
38.6 Slaves permitted to be freed when a slave must be freed by obligation	512
38.7 Slaves not permitted to be freed when a slave must be freed by obligation	513
38.8 Freeing the living for the dead	514
38.9 The excellence of freeing slaves, freeing adulteresses and illegitimate children	514
38.10 The right of the one who sets free to the walā'	515
38.11 Slaves attracting the walā' when set free	516
38.12 The inheritance of the walā'	518
38.13 The inheritance of slaves set free and the walā' of Jews and Christians who set slaves Free	519
39. THE MUKĀTAB	520
39.1 Judgement on the mukātab	520
39.2 Assuming responsibility in kitāba	523
39.3 Severance in the kitāba for an agreed price	524
39.4 Injuries caused by mukātabs	527
39.5 Selling mukātabs	528
39.6 The labour of mukātabs	530
39.7 Freeing a mukātab on payment of his due before its term	531
39.8 The inheritance of a mukātab on emancipation	532
39.9 Conditions concerning mukātabs	533
39.10 The walā' of the mukātab when he is set free	534
39.11 What is not permitted in freeing a mukātab	535
39.12 Freeing a mukātab and an umm walad	536
39.13 Bequests involving mukātabs	536

40. THE MUDABBAR	540
40.1 Judgement on the mudabbar	540
40.2 General section on tadbīr	541
40.3 Bequests involving tadbīr	542
40.4 A master's intercourse with his mudabbara	543
40.5 Selling mudabbars	544
40.6 Injuries caused by mudabbars	545
40.7 Injuries caused by an umm walad	547
41. ḤUDŪD	548
41.1 Stoning	548
41.2 Self-confession of fornication	552
41.3 The ḥadd for fornication	553
41.4 Rape	553
41.5 The ḥadd for slander, denial of paternity and insinuation	554
41.6 That for which there is no ḥadd punishment	555
41.7 That which obliges cutting off the hand	556
41.8 Cutting off the hands of runaway slaves who steal	557
41.9 Intercession is cut off for thieves when cases reach the ruler	558
41.10 General section on cutting off the hand	559
41.11 Things for which the hand is not cut off	562
42. DRINKS	565
42.1 The ḥadd punishment for drinking wine	565
42.2 Containers forbidden for preparation of nabīdh	566
42.3 Mixtures of fruit disapproved for making nabīdh	566
42.4 The prohibition of wine	566
42.5 General section on the prohibition of wine	567
43. BLOOD MONEY	569
43.1 Concerning blood-money	569
43.2 Procedure in blood-money	569
43.3 The blood-money for murder when accepted, and the criminal act of the insane	570
43.4 The blood-money for manslaughter	570
43.5 The blood-money for accidental injury	571
43.6 The blood-money for women	572
43.7 The blood-money for the foetus	573
43.8 Injuries for which there is full blood-money	575
43.9 The blood-money for an eye whose sight is lost	575
43.10 The blood-money for head wounds	576
43.11 The blood-money for fingers	577
43.12 General section on the blood-money for teeth	578
43.13 Procedure in the blood-money for teeth	579
43.14 The blood-money for injuries to slaves	579
43.15 The blood-money of the People of Protection ( dhimma )	580

AL-MUWAṬṬA

43.16 Blood-money that has to be paid on an individual basis	580
43.17 Inheritance of blood-money and making it more severe	582
43.18 General section on blood-money	583
43.19 Killing secretly by trickery and sorcery	586
43.20 What is obligatory for intentional injury	586
43.21 Retaliation in killing	587
43.22 Pardoning murder	588
43.23 Retaliation in Injury	589
43.24 The blood-money and crime of the slave set free and from whom his former master does not inherit	589
44. THE OATH OF QASĀMA	591
44.1 Beginning with the people seeking blood revenge in the oath	591
44.2 Blood relatives who are permitted to swear in the case of an intentional act	594
44.3 Swearing in the case of manslaughter	595
44.4 Inheritance in cases of qasāma	596
44.5 Swearing for blood revenge in cases involving slaves	597
45. A COMPREHENSIVE BOOK	598
45.1 Supplication for Madīna and its people	598
45.2 What has been narrated about dwelling in Madīna and leaving it	598
45.3 Making Madīna a haram	600
45.4 The epidemic of Madīna	600
45.5 The expulsion of the Jews from Madīna	602
45.6 Concerning Madīna	602
45.7 About the plague	603
46. THE DECREE	606
46.1 The Prohibition against talking about the Decree	606
46.2 General section on the People of the Decree	607
47. GOOD CHARACTER	609
47.1 Good character	609
47.2 Modesty	610
47.3 Anger	611
47.4 Shunning People	611
48. DRESS	613
48.1 Wearing clothes for beautification	613
48.2 Wearing dyed garments and gold	614
48.3 Wearing rough silk	614
48.4 Clothes disapproved for women to wear	614
48.5 A man trailing his garments	615
48.6 A woman trailing her garments	616
48.7 Wearing sandals	616
48.8 Ways of dressing	616

49. THE DESCRIPTION OF THE PROPHET ﷺ	618
49.1 Description of the Prophet ﷺ	618
49.2 Description of ‘Īsā ibn Maryam ﷺ and the Dajjāl	618
49.3 Sunna of the fiṭra (natural form)	619
49.4 Prohibition against eating with the left hand	619
49.5 The very poor	619
49.6 The intestines of the unbeliever	620
49.7 Prohibition against drinking from silver vessels and blowing into drinks	620
49.8 Drinking while standing	621
49.9 The sunna about drinking and passing to the right	621
49.10 General section on food and drink	622
49.11 Eating meat	627
49.12 Wearing rings	627
49.13 Pulling off necklaces and bells from the necks of camels	627
50. THE EVIL EYE	629
50.1 Wudū’ against the Evil Eye	629
50.2 Guarding against the Evil Eye	630
50.3 The invalid’s reward	630
50.4 Seeking refuge and using talismans in illness	631
50.5 Treating the invalid	632
50.6 Washing with water for a fever	632
50.7 Visiting invalids, and evil omens	633
51. HAIR	634
51.1 The sunna regarding hair	634
51.2 Caring for hair	635
51.3 Dyeing the hair	635
Chapters on Seeking Refuge and Those who Love Each other for the Sake of Allah	636
51.4 What is commanded of seeking refuge in Allah	636
51.5 Those who love each other in Allah	637
52. VISIONS	640
52.1 Visions	640
52.2 Games of dice	641
53. GREETINGS	642
53.1 Behaviour in greeting	642
53.2 Greeting Jews and Christians	642
53.3 General section on the greeting	643
54. GENERAL	645
54.1 Asking permission to enter	645
54.2 Blessing someone who sneezes	646

AL-MUWAṬṬA

54.3 Pictures and images	646
54.4 Eating lizards	647
54.5 Concerning dogs	648
54.6 Concerning sheep	649
54.7 Mice falling into clarified butter, and giving precedence to food over the prayer	649
54.8 Guarding against ill luck	650
54.9 Names that are disliked	650
54.10 Cupping and the reward of the cupper	651
54.11 Concerning the East	651
54.12 Killing snakes and what is said about them	652
54.13 What to say on journeys	653
54.14 Travelling alone in the case of men and women	653
54.15 How to behave on journeys	654
54.16 The command to be kind to slaves	654
54.17 A slave and his reward	655
55. THE OATH OF ALLEGIANCE	656
55.1 About the oath of allegiance	656
56. SPEECH	657
56.1 Disliked speech	657
56.2 The order to be mindful in speech	657
56.3 Disliked speech and speech without the mention of Allah	658
56.4 Backbiting	658
56.5 What is feared from the tongue	659
56.6 Two people conversing to the exclusion of another	659
56.7 Truthfulness and lying	660
56.8 Squandering property and being two-faced	660
56.9 Punishing the many for the actions of the few	661
56.10 About people with taqwā	661
56.11 What to say when it thunders	662
56.12 The legacy of the Prophet ﷺ	662
57. JAHANNAM	663
57.1 Description of Jahannam	663
58. ṢADAQA	664
58.1 Stimulation of desire for ṣadaqa	664
58.2 Refraining from asking	665
58.3 What is disliked in ṣadaqa	667
59. KNOWLEDGE	668
59.1 Seeking Knowledge	668

60 THE SUPPLICATION OF THE UNJUSTLY WRONGED	669
60.1 Supplication of someone unjustly wronged	669
61. THE NAMES OF THE PROPHET ﷺ	670
61.1 The names of the Prophet ﷺ	670
GLOSSARY	671
INDEX	689

Translation of Al-Muwatta

Al-Muwatta does not need an introduction as its author, the Faqih of Madina, Malik bin Anas, may Allah be pleased with him, is the founder of the school of hadith and Islamic fiqh. The maliki madhab is the madhab followed by the majority of the muslims in north and west Africa and in some parts of the Arabian peninsula. It is almost certain that most of the followers of the madhab are from non arabic speaking peoples and that the majority of these are from areas where the english language is in use. Therefore the translation of Al-Muwatta into this language is an essential work in that it makes the text accessible to the large numbers of english speakers in the Islamic world and the west.

This translation features two important advantages: firstly it is a translation that is not only accurate and honest but also a translation that the english reader can understand as it is not a 'literal' translation in which the meaning is lost nor is it a 'free' translation that deviates from what is intended, rather it has gathered eloquence of expression (as the translators are english muslims) and a true rendering of the original meaning (as it has been checked and corrected by an arabic scholar). Secondly it contains a complete glossary of all the terms of fiqh that are used in the text which facilitates the reader's use of the book and makes it a reference book for the student of law in both the Islamic and western schools, and in universities.

The translation of this book into the english language deserves every encouragement and support as it is a great weapon for the da'wa to the deen of Allah. It also clarifies the superior qualities of the noble shari'a in the language which is normally used to mislead and distract the reader from the truth.

May Allah give us success to work in the Way of His deen and guide us on the straight path.

*Dr. Muhammad Abu'l Khayr Zaki Badawi
Director, Islamic Cultural Centre & Central Mosque
London, England.*

THE ISLAMIC CULTURAL CENTRE

148 PARK ROAD OFF BAKER STREET | LONDON NW4 7QG. TEL: 020724 3363-7

DIRECTOR DR HAJI JAM USMAN

ترجمة كتاب الفقه

ان كتاب الفقه ليس بحاجة الى تعريف مؤلفه فقيسه المدينية مالك بن انس رضي الله عنه وهو راس مدرسة الحديث في الفقه الاسلامي . ومذهب مالك هو المذهب الذي يتبعه المسلمون في شمال وغرب افريقيا واسبانيا وبعض مناطق الجزيرة العربية ونكاد نحرم ان معظم أتباع المذهب من غير المناطق باللغة العربية وان أكثرينهم من المناطق التي تستعمل اللغة الانجليزية . فترجمة الكتاب الى هذه اللغة ضروري ليرجع اليه هذا العدد الكبير من المتحدثين بها في العالم الاسلامي وفي الغرب . وأهم ما يميز هذه الترجمة أمران : أولا : انها ترجمة لانتم باللغة والأمانة نصب بل هي كذلك ترجمة يحتج القارئ الانجليزي ان يفهمها فهي ليست ترجمة "مرفقة" يضع فيها المعنى وليست ترجمة "مرة" تتعرف من المقصود وانما جمع بين سلامة التفسير (المترجمون انجليزي متطوعون) وهدق المعنى (المراجع عالم فريخ وثانيا : انها تحتوي على ملحق شامل للمصطلحات الفقهية المستعملة في الكتاب وهذا مما يسهل على القارئ استعمال الكتاب كما يجعله مرجعا لدارس الفاسون في المدارس والجامعات الاسلامية والغربية .

ان هذا العمل خير بكل تشجيع وحون فهو سلاح عظيم من اسلحة الدعوة لدين الله وابرار امتنا من الطريقة الفراء في لغة خلقت بكل ما يبطل القارئ ويحرمه من الحق .

وفعنا الله للعمل في سبيل دينه وهدانا في صراط المستقيم .

د . محمد أبو الخير ركي بسدي

مدير المركز الثقافي الاسلامي

لندن

Introduction

Praise be to Allah, who sent our Prophet Muḥammad as a mercy to the whole universe. He sent down the Noble Qur'ān through him as a light and guidance for those who are godfearing. He commanded him to clarify what had been revealed to people so that they might reflect. His words and actions made clear to them everything they needed to know. He instructed those who were present with him to convey his teaching to those who were not there.

Blessings and peace be upon him and upon his family and his good and pure Companions who expended their property and their lives to spread the dīn of Islam. By means of them Allah preserved His Sharī'a enabling it to survive through the passage of time down to the present time. Their hearts were the vessels which contained and preserved the ayats of the Clear Book and the Sunna of the Seal of the Prophets and the Imām of the Messengers. Then those who followed them, and those who followed them in turn, undertook this task. The people who wrote down and recorded this knowledge appeared in the time of the third generation. The greatest of them was the Imām of the Abode of the Hijra, the Imām of the Imāms, Abū 'Abdullāh Mālik ibn Anas al-Aṣḥabī al-Madanī. He took it upon himself to serve the Sharī'a and to preserve the Prophetic Sunna. He did this by relaying it from those notable Tābi'ūn with whose knowledge he was satisfied and whose words he thought worthy of conveying and by his work he opened the way for all later writers and cleared a path for the compilation of Islamic law. He selected those transmitters who were reliable and rejected those who were weak. His book, al-Muwatta', was the greatest book written at that time. It was the most precise in layout and the best of them in its choice of chapters. The other books written at the same time as his book have vanished but Allah had decreed that his book would remain until this time and indeed until the first of the two worlds comes to an end, when Allah will inherit the earth and all those on it. This has come about by the permission of the One Who created the two worlds and the jinn and mankind.

I have been asked by some of our brothers, who desire to disseminate knowledge and to renew the call of Islam, to write an introduction to this edition of the Muwaṭṭa', which is the first translation of the Muwaṭṭa' in the English language. I have complied with their request hoping for an abundant reward from Allah since we are well aware of the importance of this book, its blessings, the abundant knowledge to be found in it and its fame, both past and present, among the books written on the science of ḥadīth by the Imāms who are worthy of emulation.

We have divided this introduction into the following topics:

The lineage of Imām Mālik, his family, birth and autobiography

His full name is Mālik ibn Anas ibn Mālik ibn Abī 'Āmir al-Aṣḥabī and he was related to Dhū Aṣḥab, a sub-tribe of Ḥimyar, one of the Qahtani tribes who held sway over an immense kingdom during the period of the Jāhiliyya. Their kingdom was known as the Tabābi'a (pl. of Tubba'). Tubba' is mentioned in two places in the Noble Qur'ān.

His father's grandfather, Abū 'Āmir, is considered by some to have been one of the Companions and it is mentioned that he went on all the raids with the Messenger of Allah ﷺ except Badr. However, Ibn Ḥajar mentioned in the Iṣāba from adh-Dhahabī that he did not find anyone who mentioned him as being one of the Companions, although he was certainly alive in the time of the Prophet ﷺ. As for Mālik ibn Abī 'Āmir, the grandfather of the Imām, he was one of the great scholars of the Tābi'ūn. He was one of those who assisted in the writing out of the noble Muṣḥaf at the time of the Amīr al-Mu'minīn, 'Uthmān ibn 'Affān ؓ.

He had four children: Anas, the father of the Imām, Abū Suhayl whose name was Nāfi', ar-Rabī', and Uways the grandfather of Ismā'īl ibn Abī

Uways and his brother, ‘Abd al-Ḥamīd. These two (Ismā‘īl and ‘Abd al-Ḥamīd) were among the students of Mālik and among the transmitters of the Ṣaḥīḥ. The four brothers (i.e. Anas, Mālik’s father, and his brothers) transmitted from their father, Mālik ibn Abī ‘Āmir, and others, in turn, transmitted from them. The most famous of them in knowledge and transmission was Abū Suhayl. Imām Mālik related from him as did the compilers of the Ṣaḥīḥ collections. Al-Bukhārī, Muslim, and others transmitted a lot from Mālik ibn Abī ‘Āmir and from his son, Abū Suhayl.

From this it is evident that the Imām was a branch from a good tree whose men were famous for transmitting and serving knowledge. Part of the excellence of this family lies in the fact that it gave birth to Imām Mālik. It is said that this took place in 90 A.H. although there are other opinions. He died when he was 87 according to the soundest report although it is also said that he was 90. Mālik, may Allah have mercy on him, was tall and slightly corpulent. He was bald, with a large head and well-shaped eyes, a fine nose and a full beard. Muṣ‘ab az-Zubayrī said, “Mālik was one of the most handsome people in his face and the sweetest of them in eye, the purest of them in whiteness and the most perfect of them in height and the most excellent in body.” Another said, “Mālik was of medium height.” The first is better known.

His quest for knowledge

At the time when Mālik grew up, and during the time immediately preceding him, Madīna al-Munawarra was flourishing with the great scholars who were the direct inheritors of the knowledge of the Companions, may Allah be pleased with them. They included “the seven fuqahā” of Madīna (or the ten) and their companions who took from them. Mālik himself was always eager for knowledge and devoted himself to the assemblies of eminent men of knowledge. He drank and drank again from the sweet, quenching springs of knowledge.

He was instructed in the learning and recitation of the Noble Qur’ān by Imām Nāfi’ ibn ‘Abd ar-Raḥmān ibn Abī Nu‘aym, the Imām of the reciters of Madīna and one of the “seven reciters”. Abū ‘Amr ad-Dānī, who included the biography of Imām Mālik in his book Ṭabaqāt al-

Qurrā', considered him to be one of the reciters. He mentioned that Imām al-Awzā'ī related the Qur'ān from Mālik, he being concerned with the meaning of its commentary. In the Muwaṭṭa', you will find some of his commentaries on certain ayats.

He occupied himself with those who knew ḥadīths, both in transmission and knowledge, and was a master in fiqh, knowing how to derive judgements and join statements together and how to weigh one proof against another. Part of his good fortune was that two of his shaykhs, Muḥammad ibn Shihāb az-Zuhrī and 'Abdullāh ibn Abī Bakr ibn Muḥammad ibn 'Amr ibn Ḥazm al-Anṣārī, were instrumental in the beginning of the process of recording the ḥadīths.

Imām Mālik met an extraordinary number of men of knowledge who related from the Companions or from the great Tābi'ūn. He did not attend the circle of everyone who sat teaching in the mosque of the Prophet ﷺ or leaned against one of its pillars relating ḥadīth to the people from the Messenger of Allah ﷺ but used to take only from those men that he saw possessed taqwā, scrupulousness, good memory, knowledge and understanding, and who clearly knew that they would be accountable for what they said on the Day of Rising. Shu'ba ibn al-Ḥajjāj, who was one of the great scholars of ḥadīth, said that Mālik was most discriminating, saying about him that: "He did not write down from everyone."

Knowing, as we do, that Imām Mālik came from a family of learning and grew up in Madīna al-Munawarra which was the capital of knowledge at that time, especially the knowledge of ḥadīths, and also knowing the strength of Mālik's predisposition for retention, understanding and taqwā and his perseverance and steadfastness in the face of all the obstacles he met in the path of knowledge, it is hardly surprising to discover that he graduated at a very young age. Reliable transmitters relate that he sat to give fatwā when he was seventeen years old. This was not from the impetuosity of youth or because of love of appearance but only after seventy Imāms had testified that he was worthy to give fatwā and teach. Such people would only testify when it was absolutely correct to do so. Indeed, the testimony of any two of them would have been sufficient.

People's praise of him and their testimony that he was the greatest of the Imāms in knowledge

The notable scholars at the time of Mālik and those who came after him all agree about his pre-eminent worth and consider him to be a pillar of knowledge and one of its firm bulwarks, celebrated for his taqwā, his retentive memory, his reliability in transmission, and his ability in giving fatwās. He was well known for his turning towards true knowledge and away from what did not concern him, and for cutting himself off from the caliphs and amirs who would liberally bestow money on those men of knowledge who attached themselves to them. He had overwhelming respect for the ḥadīths of the Messenger of Allah ﷺ, and this was considered enough by the notable men of ḥadīth and fuqahā' who related from him and used his transmission as a proof, putting it ahead of the transmission of many of his peers. They followed him in declaring different transmitters reliable or unreliable.

There is no disagreement on the fact that al-Layth, al-Awzā'i, the two Sufyāns, Ibn al-Mubārak, Shu'ba ibn al-Ḥajjāj, 'Abd ar-Razzāq and other great scholars like them transmitted from Mālik. Imām ash-Shāfi'i was one of his most prominent pupils as was Imām Muḥammad ibn al-Ḥasan, the companion of Abū Ḥanīfa. Qāḍī Abū Yūsuf, who met and spoke with him, also related from him via an intermediary. It is also true that Abū Ḥanīfa related from him as did a group of his shaykhs, including Muḥammad ibn Shihāb az-Zuhrī, Rabi'a ibn Abī 'Abd ar-Raḥmān, Abū al-Aswad Muḥammad ibn 'Abd ar-Raḥmān known as the 'orphan of 'Urwa', Yaḥyā ibn Sa'īd al-Anṣārī, Ayyūb as-Sakhtiyānī and others. There were none in their time greater than these men. Some of them were fuqahā' and others were ḥadīth relaters. Most of them were both.

Those who came after them all related from Mālik except for those who were prevented from doing so by circumstances. Why indeed should they not relate from him? Was not the Imām someone who combined justice, precision, examination, and criticism in his evaluation of men and avoided transmission from the weak? There is only one man he related from who is considered weak. He was 'Abd al-Karīm ibn Abī al-Makhāriq al-Baṣrī, and this only happened because he was not one of the people of Mālik's own land and Mālik was deceived by his scrupulousness and the way he performed hajj.

If you have any doubts about what we have said, then look in any of the books of ḥadīths and you will find the name of Mālik constantly repeated by the tongues and pens of the transmitters. Enough for us is the frequent repetition of his name in the Ṣaḥīḥ volumes of al-Bukhārī and Muslim. The Kitāb al-Umm of Imām ash-Shāfi'ī and his Kitāb ar-Risāla both begin with the words, "Mālik reported to us." When the Musnad of ash-Shāfi'ī was compiled, it also began with the same words.

We find that Ḥāfiẓ Abū Bakr al-Bayhaqī began his great Sunan with the ḥadīth "Its water is pure" which is from the transmission of ash-Shāfi'ī from Mālik and from the transmission of Abū Dāwūd from Mālik. He mentioned that ash-Shāfi'ī said, "There is someone in the isnād whom I do not know." Then al-Bayhaqī said at the end of it, "However, that which establishes the soundness of its isnād was the reliability Mālik gave it in the Muwaṭṭa'." These words indicate the position of Mālik and that the people of his time and those after them, who were not partisan, acknowledged his pre-eminence in the preservation of ḥadīth, in his ability to distinguish the sound from the weak, and in his knowledge of the science of men and their states, whether they were reliable or unreliable.

Those early Imāms were not content to remain silent about him, but spoke out using their tongues and their pens, clearly stating his eminence and the extent of his fame. In Iṣ'āf al-mubaṭṭa bi-rijāl al-Muwaṭṭa', Jalāl ad-Dīn as-Suyūṭī said that Bishr ibn 'Umar az-Zahrānī said that he asked Mālik about a man and he said, "Do you see him in my books?" He replied, "No." Mālik said, "If he had been reliable, you would have seen him in my books." Ibn al-Madīnī said, "I never knew Mālik to reject a man unless there was something wrong about his ḥadīths." Ibn al-Madīnī also said, "When Mālik brings you a ḥadīth from someone from Sa'īd ibn al-Musayyib, I prefer that to Sufyān from someone from Ibrāhīm. Mālik only relates from people who are reliable." Yaḥyā ibn Ma'īn said, "All of those from whom Mālik ibn Anas relates are reliable except for 'Abd al-Karīm al-Baṣrī Abū Umayya."

Aḥmad ibn Ṣāliḥ said, “I do not know of anyone who was more careful in his selection of men and scholars than Mālik. I do not know of anyone who has related anything wrong about anyone among those he chose. He related from people none of whom are rejected.” An-Nasā’ī said, “The trustees of Allah over the knowledge of the Messenger of Allah ﷺ were Shu’ba ibn al-Ḥajjāj, Mālik ibn Anas and Yaḥyā ibn Sa’īd al-Qaṭṭān.” He said, “Ath-Thawrī was an Imām, but he related from weak men. It was the same with Ibn al-Mubārak.” Then he indicated the pre-eminence of Mālik over Shu’ba and Yaḥyā ibn Sa’īd al-Qaṭṭān. He said, “There are none among the Tābi’ūn trusted in ḥadīths more than these three, and none who had fewer weak transmissions.”

Ismā’īl ibn Abī Uways said, “I heard my uncle, Mālik, say, ‘This knowledge is a dīn, so look to those from whom you take your dīn. I met seventy men who said, ‘The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said by these pillars...’ and I did not take anything from them. Yet if any one of them were to be trusted with the treasury, he would have been trustworthy. This is because they were not men of this business. But when Ibn Shihāb came to us, we crowded around his door. Yaḥyā ibn Ma’īn said from Sufyān ibn ‘Uyayna, ‘Who are we in comparison to Mālik? We merely follow in the tracks of Mālik. We looked to see if Mālik took from a shaykh. If not we left him.’”

Ashhab said that Mālik was asked, “Should one take from someone who does not memorise, but is reliable and accurate in writing? Can ḥadīths be taken from such a man?” Mālik replied, “I fear that he might add to his books at night.” Al-Athrim said, “I asked Aḥmad ibn Ḥanbal about ‘Amr ibn Abī ‘Amr, the client of al-Muṭṭalib, and he said, ‘His transmission is excellent in my opinion. Mālik related from him.’” Abū Sa’īd ibn al-A’rābī said, “If Mālik related from a man, Yaḥyā ibn Ma’īn declared him reliable. More than one person was asked and said, ‘He is reliable. Mālik related from him.’”

Qarād Abū Nūḥ said, “Mālik mentioned something and was asked, ‘Who related it to you?’ He said. ‘We did not use to sit with fools.’” ‘Abdullāh ibn Aḥmad ibn Ḥanbal said, “I heard my father mentioning this and he said, ‘There is no statement in the world more noble than this regarding the virtues of scholars - Mālik ibn Anas mentioned that he did not sit with fools. This statement is not valid from anyone else except Mālik.’”

In Tadhkira al-Ḥuffāz, adh-Dhahabī mentioned some of people’s praise of him, including the famous statement of ash-Shāfi’ī, “When the ‘ulamā’ are mentioned, Mālik is the star.” Aḥmad ibn al-Khalīl said that he heard Ishāq ibn Ibrāhīm (i.e. Ibn Rahwayh) say, “When ath-Thawrī, Mālik and al-Awzā’ī agree on a matter, it is sunna, even if there is no text on it.”

After mentioning much of the praise of the people of knowledge for him, adh-Dhahabī said, “I put Mālik’s biography on its own in a section in my Tārīkh al-Kabīr. It is agreed that Mālik had virtues which are not known to have been combined in anyone else. The first of them was the length of his life and extent of his transmission. The second was his piercing mind. The third was the agreement of the Imāms that he is a proof, sound in transmission. The fourth is that they agree on his dīn, justice and following of the sunna. The fifth is his pre-eminence in fiqh, fatwā and the soundness of his foundations.”

In Taqrīb at-Tahdhīb, Ibn Ḥajar says, “Mālik ibn Anas ibn Mālik ibn Abī ‘Āmir al-Aṣḥabī, Abū ‘Abdullāh, al-Madanī, the faqīh, the Imām of the Abode of the Hijra, the chief of those who have taqwā and the greatest of those who are confirmed, of whom al-Bukhārī said, “The soundest isnāds of all are those of Mālik from Nāfi’ from Ibn ‘Umar.”

This is just a brief collection of a few of the things that have been said about him by scholars who do not follow the school of Mālik. Their words in no way disagree with anything that has been written by the Mālikī scholars who follow him. The reader will be able to find a lot of what they have said in the books of Abū ‘Umar ibn ‘Abd al-Barr, the Tartīb al-Madārik of Qāḍī Abū al-Faḍl ‘Iyāḍ, and ad-Dībāj al-Mudhahhab by Burhān ad-Dīn ibn Farḥūn, and other books of earlier and later writers.

Among the Mālikīs and others Imām Mālik is known as the Imām of the Imāms. It is easy to see why this is so. We know that those Imāms whose schools, fatwās and transmissions are followed were his students, either directly or via an intermediary. Imām ash-Shāfi’ī was one of Imām Mālik’s most famous students and Imām Aḥmad was one of the most famous students of ash-Shāfi’ī. Muḥammad ibn al-Ḥasan was one of the transmitters of the Muwaṭṭa’. Abū Yūsuf also related it from Mālik via an intermediary. One scholar confirmed that Imām Abū Ḥanīfa also related from him, and no objection was made to him for stating that. Some shaykhs like Ibn Shihāb and ar-Rabī'a related from Mālik as we have already mentioned. We also mentioned that al-Layth, al-Awzā'ī, the two Sufyāns and Ibn al-Mubārak related from him, and there is no disagreement about that. Scholars of ḥadīths who are famous for writing in that field, or from whom others have transmitted, transmitted from him. We say that today there is no scholar of the Islamic Shari'a who is not a student of Mālik. That is because, first of all, it is not valid to count someone as a scholar of the Shari'a if he is ignorant of the Muwatta', the Six Books, the Musnad of Aḥmad and the rest of the books which are consulted in ḥadīths. All of those who relate these books or some of them must relate from Mālik. Therefore they must respect this Imām from whom they relate and acknowledge his position and ask for mercy on him.

One of the extraordinary things about the people who came to Mālik for transmission is that there was not a single small region subject to the rule of Islam in his time but that a group of their noble sons set out to visit him. The number of those whose name was Muḥammad who related from him is more than a hundred. The number of those called 'Abdullāh is about sixty, of those called Yaḥyā about forty, and of those called Sa'īd more than twenty. If you were to imagine his circle of study, you would find Andalusians, Khorasanis, Syrians, Moroccans, Egyptians, Iraqis, Yemenis, and others all sitting in a circle around him with their different languages, colours, and clothing. It must have been an amazing sight. We do not believe that such a group has ever been gathered together at the feet of a scholar before or after him, in Madīna or elsewhere.

The shaykhs from whom he transmitted

It is known that Imām Mālik grew up in Madīna al-Munawwara and that those who sought knowledge travelled there from all the regions of Islam because Madīna had an unrivalled number of scholars compared with the rest of the Muslim world. In Madīna Mālik met all the great men who had a major part in the transmission of ḥadīths and the sayings of the Companions and the great Tābi'ūn. He found such a wealth of knowledge there that he did not need to travel anywhere else. He related from nine hundred shaykhs or more and with his own hand wrote down a hundred thousand ḥadīths. His book, the Muwaṭṭa', which we are discussing, contains eighty-four men of the Tābi'ūn, all of whom were people of Madīna except for six. These six were Abū az-Zubayr from Makka, Ḥamīd aṭ-Ṭawīl and Ayyūb as-Sakhtiyānī from Basra, 'Aṭā' ibn Abī Muslim from Khorasan, 'Abd al-Karīm al-Jazarī from Jazira (Mesopotamia) in northern Iraq, and Ibrāhīm ibn Abī 'Abla from Syria. Mālik is famous for the fact that he did not transmit from a number of scholars whom he met, even though they were people of dīn and correct action, because he thought that they did not transmit properly.

Al-Ghāfiqī said that the number of his shaykhs whom he named (i.e. in the Muwaṭṭa') was ninety-five.

The transmitters who transmitted from him

In the introduction to Tanwīr al-Ḥawālik, as-Suyūṭī says that so many people related from him that no other Imām is known to have had a transmission like his. He says that Abū Bakr al-Khaṭīb al-Baghdadī devoted a book to those who transmitted from Mālik and it included 993 men. Qāḍī 'Iyāḍ mentioned that he wrote a book on those who transmitted from Mālik in which he enumerated over 1300 men. As-Suyūṭī said that he had enumerated the names of all of them in his Great Commentary. The transmitters of al-Muwaṭṭa' alone are of a number which it is difficult to count.

Qāḍī 'Iyāḍ mentioned that the number of transmissions which he read or came across in the transmissions of his shaykhs reached twenty, and some of them mention thirty. Another thing that indicates the great number of the transmitters of the Muwaṭṭa' is that Aḥmad ibn Ḥanbal said, "I heard the Muwaṭṭa' from about ten of the companions of Mālik who had mentioned it but I revised it with ash-Shāfi'ī because I found him to be the most correct of them." Shaykh Muḥammad Ḥabīb-Allāh ibn Māyābā ash-Shinqīṭī said in Iḍā'a al-Ḥālik that Ibn Nāṣir ad-Dīn ad-Dimashqī wrote a book about the transmitters of the Muwaṭṭa' and he mentioned that there were seventy-nine. Among those who transmitted the Muwaṭṭa' from Mālik were his son, Yaḥyā, and his daughter, Fāṭima.

The position of the Muwaṭṭa' and people's concern for it

In the introduction to Tanwīr al-Ḥawālik, as-Suyūṭī said that ash-Shāfi'ī said, "After the Book of Allah, there is no book on the face of the earth sounder than the book of Mālik." In another statement he said, "No book has been placed on the earth closer to the Qur'ān than the book of Mālik." In a third he said, "After the Book of Allah, there is no book more useful than the Muwaṭṭa'." 'Alā' ad-Dīn Maghlaṭāy al-Ḥanafī said, "The first person to compile the ṣaḥīḥ was Mālik."

Ibn Ḥajar said, "The book of Mālik is sound by all the criteria that are demanded as proofs in the mursal, munqaṭi' and other types of transmission." Then as-Suyūṭī followed what Ibn Ḥajar said here and said, "The mursal ḥadīths in it are a proof with him (ash-Shāfi'ī) as well because the mursal is a proof with us when it is properly supported. Every mursal report in the Muwaṭṭa' has one or more supports as will be made clear in this commentary (i.e. Tanwīr al-Ḥawālik). It is absolutely correct to say that the Muwaṭṭa' is sound (ṣaḥīḥ) without exception."

Ibn 'Abd al-Barr collected together all the mursal, munqaṭi' and muḍal ḥadīths in the Muwaṭṭa' and said that the total number of ḥadīths in the Muwaṭṭa' which do not have an isnād are sixty-one. He stated that he found the isnāds of all of them in other sources with the exception of four ḥadīths. The erudite scholar of ḥadīth, Shaykh Muḥammad Ḥabīb-Allāh ibn Māyābā ash-Shinqīṭī says in Iḍā'a al-Ḥālik that he had found witnesses for these four ḥadīths and he then mentioned these witnesses. He said, "Some of the people of knowledge made these isnāds complete." He mentioned from Ibn 'Abd al-Barr that there are no munkar ḥadīths in the Muwaṭṭa' nor anything fundamentally refuted. In Dalīl as-Sālik in the margin of Iḍā'a al-Ḥālik he mentioned that Ibn Ḥajar retracted what he had previously said which was what had been followed by as-Suyūṭī. From this it is clear that everything in the Muwaṭṭa' has an isnād. The people of knowledge rely on the ḥadīths in it and transmit and record them in their books, including al-Bukhārī and Muslim who transmitted most of its ḥadīths and included them in their Ṣaḥīḥ collections. The rest of the authors of the six books did the same as did the Imām of the ḥadīth scholars, Aḥmad ibn Ḥanbal, and others.

It should be pointed out that the ḥadīths of Mālik are not confined to those he included in the Muwaṭṭaʾ. This is clearly shown by the ḥadīths we find transmitted from Mālik in the two Ṣaḥīḥ volumes which are not found in the Muwaṭṭaʾ. There is a ḥadīth which al-Bukhārī relates in the chapter on the description of the Garden: “The people there look at the people of the chambers from above them.” There is a second ḥadīth related by Mālik commenting on Surat al-Muṭaffafīn (83) where the Prophet ﷺ said, “The Day when people stand before the Lord of the Worlds’ until one of them disappears immersed in his sweat up to his ears.” There is a third ḥadīth related by Muslim in the chapter forbidding ṣadaqa to the family of the Prophet ﷺ which he related from ‘Abdullāh ibn Muḥammad ibn Asmā’ aḍ-Ḍabaʿī from his uncle, Juwayriya ibn Asmā’, from Mālik.

There are two areas which particularly interest people regarding the Muwaṭṭaʾ. One of them is its transmission and the other is its commentary and the discussion about its transmitters and the different expressions they use and so forth. As for interest in its transmitters, we have already shown how the seekers of knowledge in Mālik’s time came from East, West, South and North out of the desire to sit in his circle and take from him. Many of this group related the Muwaṭṭaʾ from him and preserved it in their hearts or in writing. The men of the generation after their generation were also concerned with it.

We have enough evidence for what we say in the fact that Imām Aḥmad ibn Ḥanbal related it first from ten men and then finally from Imām ash-Shāfiʿī. Similarly ash-Shāfiʿī first learned it in Makka and then went to Madīna to Mālik and took it directly from him. That is also what Yaḥyā ibn Yaḥyā al-Andalusī did – he first learned it in his own country from Ziyād ibn ‘Abd ar-Raḥmān Shabṭūn and then travelled from Andalusia to Madīna and read it directly with Mālik in the year in which Imām Mālik died, may Allah have mercy on him.

As for interest in its commentary, discussion about its transmitters and whether the different versions are shorter or longer, and commentary on what is gharib in it and that sort of thing, people evince more interest in writing about these matters in the case of the Muwaṭṭa' than they do for any other book of ḥadīth. A great number of people have written about these things and some of them have composed several books. For instance, Ibn 'Abd al-Barr wrote three books: at-Tamhīd, al-Istidhkār and at-Tajrīd which is also called "at-Taqaṣṣī". Qāḍī Abū al-Walīd al-Bājī wrote three commentaries called al-Istifā', al-Muntaqā, and al-Īmā'. He wrote a fourth book on the different versions of the Muwaṭṭa'. Jalāl ad-Dīn as-Suyūṭī wrote two commentaries on it. One of them, called Kashf al-Mughatṭā, is voluminous, and the other is a summary called Tanwīr al-Ḥawālik. He wrote a third book called Iṣ'āf al-Mubattā' bi-rijāl al-Muwaṭṭa'.

The most famous transmission of the Muwaṭṭa' is that of Yaḥyā ibn Yaḥyā al-Laythī al-Andalusī so that when the name the Muwaṭṭa' is used, it is this transmission that is referred to. There are about a hundred commentaries on it. This is what Shaykh Muḥammad Ḥabīb-Allāh ibn Māyābā ash-Shinqīṭī was indicating in the Dalīl as-Sālik when he said:

The most famous Muwaṭṭa'

If the truth be known

Is that of Imām Yaḥyā al-Laythī.

Who else's can be compared with his?

He also said:

It is the one on which the critics comment and in whose lustre the slaves find benefit.

There are about a hundred commentaries on it,
all of them about what it contains.

Another version of the Muwaṭṭa' worthy of mention is that of Imām Muḥammad ibn al-Ḥasan ash-Shaybānī which has great distinction. It includes the transmission of many traditions intended to support his madhhab and the madhhab of his Imām, Abū Ḥanīfa. Sometimes he mentions that Abū Ḥanīfa agrees with Mālik regarding the matter under discussion.

It appears that the Andalusians had a great deal of interest in the Muwaṭṭa' as anyone will know who has studied the names of the scholars who made commentaries on it or spoke about the people in it and its different versions or wrote on its gharīb ḥadīths.

It should also be noted that those who were interested in the Muwaṭṭa' were not only Mālikīs or people from one particular region. They were from different groups and schools and from all parts of the Muslim world.

Clarification of the meaning of “Muwaṭṭa'”, its excellent layout and fine style

“Muwaṭṭa'” is a passive participle from the verb “tawṭi'a”. One says that the thing is smoothed (waṭṭa'a) and “I prepared the thing for you” and “The bed is laid out” and “The seat is made comfortable for you”. Ibn Manẓūr said in al-Lisān, “In the ḥadīth: ‘Shall I tell you of the one among you I love the most and who will sit closest to me on the Day of Rising? – Those who are easy-going (muwaṭṭa' al-aknāf) who are friendly and bring people together.’” Ibn al-Athīr said, “This comes from tawṭi'a which means to smooth and make lower. Thus Muwaṭṭa' means the clear book which smooths the way and is not difficult for the seeker of knowledge to grasp. It is also related that Mālik gave his book this title because he read it to a group of the people of knowledge and they agreed with him about it (wāṭa'a). In this case the name would be derived from muwāṭa'a which means agreement. However, the first meaning is more likely because it is supported by the rules of derivation although both of them apply since the way is prepared and smoothed by it and people agree about it and admire it.

If you look at the Muwaṭṭa' in an unbiased way, you will find that it prepares and smooths the way and is easy to grasp, even though it is one of the oldest books now in our possession. No earlier book from the people of knowledge is known. Its author made it an example to be imitated, particularly in the way in which it is arranged.

We find that Mālik begins with the chapters on the acts of worship, which are the pillars of Islam. He put the prayer first, it being the greatest of the pillars. Since the prayer only becomes obligatory when its time comes, he began by talking about the times of prayer. Then he spoke about purity in all its forms because purification is obligatory after the time for prayer has come. Then he spoke about what it is obligatory to do in the prayer and what is not obligatory and things that can happen to people in the prayer. Then he spoke about zakāt and so on until he had covered all the acts of worship. Then he spoke about the rest of the matters of fiqh and divided each chapter into small sections so as to make it easier to grasp. He finished the book with a chapter called “General Matters” which contains various things which did not fit under the other headings, and since it was not possible to devote a whole chapter to each of them and he did not want to go on at length, he combined them and called it “General Matters”. As Ibn al-‘Arabī says, other authors found in this arrangement a new way of organising their material.

What he did in the book as a whole he also did in certain chapters. For instance at the end of the chapter on prayer, he has a section entitled “Prayer in General”. He also has a section on “Funerals in General,” “Fasting in General,” “General chapter on what is not permitted of marriage,” and “General chapter on sales,” etc. This shows the excellence of the way he arranged the book and the precision of the system he used. This is so much the case that if one of us today, in this age of systems, wanted to organise it, it would be very difficult to come up with a better arrangement than the one it already has.

If the reader looks at the Muwatta’ with respect to its language, he will find that its language shows that the author was a pure Arab. His language has both force and simplicity. Its terms are neither odd nor hackneyed. His style is free of oversimplification, unnecessary complexity or triteness. Despite its length, the book does not contain any linguistic or grammatical errors nor any of the faults which the scholars of rhetoric warn against.

Consequently we do not find that any of those who have made commentaries on it or spoken about it, despite their great number and their different times, places and backgrounds, directed any criticism at it on these grounds, neither in respect of what the Imām himself wrote nor in respect of the transmissions of Prophetic ḥadīths and other traditions ascribed to the Companions and the Tābi'ūn. By that we mean that there is no criticism at all that cannot easily be answered. It is always possible for criticism to be made by people whose understanding is inadequate and who lack sufficient knowledge. "How many there are who find fault with a sound statement while their trouble is faulty understanding."

The noble reader should also be aware of the fact that Imām Mālik has other works than the Muwaṭṭa' even though they are not as famous.

These works are:

1. A letter on Qadar and refutation of the Qadariyya. He wrote it to 'Abdullāh ibn Wahb, one of his eminent students.
2. A book on the stars and reckoning the passage of time and the stages of the moon.
3. A letter on judgements which he wrote to some judges.
4. A letter on fatwā which was addressed to Abū Ghassān Muḥammad ibn Muṭarrif al-Laythī, one of his great students.
5. A letter on the ijmā' of the people of Madīna which he sent to Imām al-Layth ibn Sa'd.
6. A book on the tafsīr of rare words in the Qur'ān.
7. A letter on manners and admonitions which he sent to Hārūn ar-Rashīd which is not acknowledged by a group of notable Mālikīs.
8. A book called Kitāb as-Sirr.

This introduction is only a drop in the ocean. It has not covered everything by any means but I hope it has mentioned a few salient points.

Allah is the One we ask for help and on Whom we rely. May Allah bless our master Muḥammad and his family and Companions and grant them peace abundantly.

Shaykh Aḥmad ibn ‘Abd al-‘Azīz Al Mubārak

Head of the Sharī‘a Court

United Arab Emirates

1. The Times of Prayer

1.1 The times of prayer

1 He said, “Yaḥyā ibn Yaḥyā al-Laythī related to me from Mālik ibn Anas from Ibn Shihāb that one day ‘Umar ibn ‘Abd al-‘Azīz delayed the prayer. ‘Urwa ibn az-Zubayr went to him and told him that al-Mughīra ibn Shu‘ba had delayed the prayer one day while he was in Kūfa and Abū Mas‘ūd al-Anṣārī had gone to him and asked, ‘What is this, Mughīra? Do you not know that the angel Jibrīl came down and prayed and the Messenger of Allah ﷺ prayed. Then he prayed again, and the Messenger of Allah ﷺ prayed. Then he prayed again, and the Messenger of Allah ﷺ prayed. Then he prayed again, and the Messenger of Allah ﷺ prayed. Then he prayed again, and the Messenger of Allah ﷺ prayed. Then he said, “This is what I was ordered to do.””

‘Umar ibn ‘Abd al-‘Azīz said, “Be sure of what you relate, ‘Urwa. Was it definitely Jibrīl who established the times of the prayers for the Messenger of Allah?”

‘Urwa replied, “That is how it was related to Bashīr ibn Abī Mas‘ūd al-Anṣārī by his father.”

2 ‘Urwa said, “Ā’isha, the wife of the Prophet ﷺ related to me that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ used to pray ‘Aṣr while the sunlight was pouring into her room, before the sun itself had become visible (i.e. because it was still high in the sky).”

3 Yaḥyā related to me from Mālik from Zayd ibn Aslam that ‘Aṭā’ ibn

Yasār said, “A man came to the Messenger of Allah ﷺ and asked him about the time of the Ṣubḥ prayer. The Messenger of Allah ﷺ did not answer him, but in the morning he prayed Ṣubḥ at first light. The following morning he prayed Ṣubḥ when it was much lighter, and then asked, ‘Where is the man who was asking about the time of the prayer?’ The man replied, ‘Here I am, Messenger of Allah.’ He said, ‘The time is between these two.’”

4 Yaḥyā related to me from Mālik from Yaḥyā ibn Sa‘īd from ‘Amra bint ‘Abd ar-Raḥmān that ‘Ā’isha, the wife of the Prophet ﷺ said, “The Messenger of Allah ﷺ used to pray Ṣubḥ and then the women would leave wrapped in their garments while they could not yet be recognised in the darkness.”

5 Yaḥyā related to me from Mālik from Zayd ibn Aslam from ‘Aṭā’ ibn Yasār and from Busr ibn Sa‘īd and from al-A‘raj – all of whom related it to him from Abū Hurayra – that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said, “Whoever manages to perform a rak‘a of Ṣubḥ before the sun has risen has done Ṣubḥ within the time, and whoever manages to perform a rak‘a of ‘Aṣr before the sun has set has done ‘Aṣr within the time.”

6 Yaḥyā related to me from Mālik from Nāfi‘, the mawlā of ‘Abdullāh ibn ‘Umar, that ‘Umar ibn al-Khaṭṭāb wrote to his governors, saying, “The most important of your affairs in my view is the prayer. Whoever protects it and observes it carefully is protecting his dīn, while whoever is negligent about it will be even more negligent about other things.”

Then he added, “Pray Zuḥr any time from when the afternoon shade is the length of your forearm until the length of your shadow matches your height. Pray ‘Aṣr when the sun is still pure white, so that a rider can travel two or three farsakhs before the sun sets. Pray Maghrib when the sun has set. Pray Ishā’ any time after the redness in the western sky has disappeared up until a third of the night has passed – and a person who sleeps, may he have no rest; a person who sleeps, may he have no rest; a person who sleeps, may he have no rest. Pray Ṣubḥ when all the stars are visible and mixed together in the sky.”

7 Yaḥyā related to me from Mālik from his uncle Abū Suhayl from his father that ‘Umar ibn al-Khattāb wrote to Abū Mūsā saying that he should pray Zuḥr when the sun had started to decline, Aṣr when the sun was still pure white before it was tinged with any yellowness, Maghrib when the sun had set, and to delay Ishā’ as long as he did not sleep, and to pray Ṣubḥ when the stars were all visible and mixed together in the sky, reciting in it two long sūras from the Mufaṣṣal.

8 Yaḥyā related to me from Mālik from Hishām ibn ‘Urwa from his father that ‘Umar ibn al-Khaṭṭāb wrote to Abū Mūsā al-Ash‘arī that he should pray Aṣr when the sun was still pure white so that a man could ride three farsakhs (before Maghrib) and that he should pray Ishā’ during the first third of the night, or, if he delayed it, then up until the middle of the night, and he warned him not to be forgetful.

9 Yaḥyā related to me from Mālik from Yazīd ibn Ziyād that ‘Abdullāh ibn Rāfi’, the mawlā of Umm Salama, the wife of the Prophet ﷺ, asked Abū Hurayra about the times of the prayers. Abū Hurayra said, “I will tell you. Pray Zuḥr when the length of your shadow matches your height, Aṣr when your shadow is twice your height, Maghrib when the sun has set, Ishā’ in the first third of the night, and Ṣubḥ in the very first light of dawn,” i.e. when the dawn has definitely come.

10 Yaḥyā related to me from Mālik from Ishāq ibn ‘Abdullāh ibn Abī Ṭalḥa that Anas ibn Mālik said, “We used to pray the Aṣr prayer, and then if one of us went out to the Banū ‘Amr ibn ‘Awf, we would find them praying Aṣr.”

11 Yaḥyā related to me from Mālik from Ibn Shihāb that Anas ibn Mālik said, “We used to pray Aṣr and then it was still possible for one of us to go to Qubā’ and arrive there while the sun was still high.”

12 Yaḥyā related to me from Mālik from Rabi‘a ibn Abī ‘Abd ar-Raḥmān that al-Qāsim ibn Muḥammad said, “None of the Companions that I met prayed Zuḥr until well after noon,” (i.e. until when the sun had lost it fierceness).

1.2 The time of the jumu'a prayer

13 Yaḥyā related to me from Mālik from his uncle Abū Suhayl ibn Mālik that his father said, “I used to see a carpet belonging to ‘Āqil ibn Abī Ṭālib spread out on the day of jumu'a up to the west wall of the mosque. When the shadow of the wall covered the whole carpet, ‘Umar ibn al-Khaṭṭāb would come out and pray the jumu'a prayer.” Mālik, Abū Suhayl’s father, added, “We would then return after the jumu'a prayer and take our midday sleep”.

14 Yaḥyā related to me from Mālik from ‘Amr ibn Yaḥyā ibn Yaḥyā al-Māzinī from Ibn Abī Salīt that ‘Uthmān ibn ‘Affān prayed jumu'a in Madīna and ‘Aṣr at Malal. Mālik commented, “That was due to praying jumu'a just past midday and then travelling fast.”

1.3 Whoever catches a rak'a of the ṣalāh

15 Yaḥyā related to me from Mālik from Ibn Shihāb from Abū Salama ibn ‘Abd ar-Raḥmān from Abū Hurayra that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said, “Whoever catches a rak'a of the prayer has caught the prayer.”

16 Yaḥyā related to me from Mālik from Nāfi‘ that ‘Abdullāh ibn ‘Umar ibn al-Khaṭṭāb used to say, “If you have missed rukū', you have missed the sajda.”

17 Yaḥyā related to me from Mālik that he had heard that ‘Abdullāh ibn ‘Umar and Zayd ibn Thābit used to say, “Whoever catches the rukū' has caught the sajda.”

18 Yaḥyā related to me from Mālik that he had heard that Abū Hurayra used to say, “Whoever catches the rukū' has caught the sajda and whoever misses the recitation of the Umm al-Qur'ān has missed much good.”

1.4 Dulūk ash-shams and ghasaq al-layl

19 Yaḥyā related to me from Mālik from Nāfi' that 'Abdullāh ibn 'Umar used to say, "Dulūk ash-Shams begins from when the sun passes the meridian."

20 Yaḥyā related to me from Mālik that Dā'ūd ibn al-Ḥusayn said that someone had told him that 'Abdullāh ibn 'Abbās used to say, "Dulūk ash-Shams begins from when the sun passes the meridian. Ghasaq al-layl is the gathering of the night and its darkness."

1.5 The times of prayer in general

21 Yaḥyā related to me from Mālik from Nāfi' from 'Abdullāh ibn 'Umar that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said, "If someone misses the ʿAṣr prayer it is as if he has been deprived of his family and all his wealth."

22 Yaḥyā related to me from Mālik from Yaḥyā ibn Sa'īd that once 'Umar ibn al-Khattāb left after performing the ʿAṣr prayer and met a man who had not been present for ʿAṣr. 'Umar asked him what had kept him from the ʿAṣr prayer, and even though the man gave a good reason, 'Umar said, "You have given yourself short measure."

Yaḥyā added that Mālik commented, "It is said that everything has a short measure and a full measure."

23 Yaḥyā related to me from Mālik that Yaḥyā ibn Sa'īd used to say, "Even if someone manages to pray before the time of the prayer has passed, the time that has passed him by is more important – or better – than his family and wealth."

Yaḥyā said that Mālik said, "If the time for a prayer comes and a traveller delays the prayer through neglect or forgetfulness until he reaches his family, he should do that prayer in full if he arrives within the time. But if he arrives after the time has passed, he should do the travelling prayer – that way he only repays what he owes."

Mālik said, “This is what I have found the people and men of knowledge in our land doing.”

Mālik explained that shafaq is the redness in the sky after the sun has set and said, “When the redness has gone then the ‘Ishā’ prayer is due and you have left the time of Maghrib.”

24 Yaḥyā related to me from Mālik from Nāfi’ that once ‘Abdullāh ibn ‘Umar fainted and lost consciousness and he did not make up the prayer.

Mālik commented, “We consider that that was because, and Allah knows best, the time had passed. Someone who recovers within the time still has to pray.”

1.6 Sleeping through the prayer

25 Yaḥyā related to me from Mālik from Ibn Shihāb from Sa’id ibn al-Musayyab that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ travelled by night on the way back from Khaybar. Towards the end of the night he stopped for a rest and told Bilāl, “Keep watch for the Ṣubḥ prayer.” The Messenger of Allah ﷺ and his companions slept. Bilāl stayed on watch for as long as was decreed for him and then he leant against his riding camel facing the direction of the dawn and sleep overcame him and neither he nor the Messenger of Allah ﷺ nor any of the party woke up until the sun’s rays struck them. The Messenger of Allah ﷺ was alarmed. Bilāl said, “Messenger of Allah! The One who took your soul was the One who took my soul.” The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said, “Move on.” So they roused their mounts and rode on a short distance. The Messenger of Allah ﷺ ordered Bilāl to give the iqāma for the prayer and then led them in the Ṣubḥ prayer. When he finished the prayer he said, “A person who forgets a prayer should pray it when he remembers. Allah the Blessed and Exalted says in His book, ‘Establish the prayer to remember Me.’ (20:14)”

26 Yaḥyā related to me from Mālik that Zayd ibn Aslam said, “The Messenger of Allah ﷺ stopped for a rest one night on the road to Makka and appointed Bilāl to wake them up for the prayer. Bilāl slept and everyone else slept and none of them woke up until the sun had risen.

When they did wake up they were all alarmed. The Messenger of Allah ﷺ ordered them to ride out of the valley, saying that there was a shayṭān in it. So they rode out of the valley and the Messenger of Allah ﷺ ordered them to dismount and do wuḍū' and he told Bilāl either to call the prayer or to give the iqāma. The Messenger of Allah ﷺ then led them in prayer. Noticing their uneasiness, he went to them and said, 'O people! Allah seized our spirits (arwāḥ) and if He had wished He would have returned them to us at a time other than this. So if you sleep through the time for a prayer or forget it and then are anxious about it, pray it as if you were praying it in its time.' The Messenger of Allah ﷺ turned to Abū Bakr and said, 'Shayṭān came to Bilāl when he was standing in prayer and made him lie down and lulled him to sleep like a small boy.' The Messenger of Allah ﷺ then called Bilāl and told him the same as he had told Abū Bakr. Abū Bakr declared. 'I bear witness that you are the Messenger of Allah.'

1.7 Not doing the prayer at the hottest hour of the day

27 Yaḥyā related to me from Mālik from Zayd ibn Aslam from 'Aṭā' ibn Yasār that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said, "Scorching heat comes from the blast of Jahannam. So when the heat is fierce, delay the prayer until it gets cooler." He added in explanation, "The Fire complained to its Lord and said, 'My Lord, part of me has eaten another part,' so He allowed it two breaths in every year, a breath in winter and a breath in summer."

28 Mālik related to us from 'Abdullāh ibn Yazīd, the mawlā of al-Aswad ibn Sufyān, from Abū Salama ibn 'Abd ar-Raḥmān from Muḥammad ibn 'Abd ar-Raḥmān ibn Thawbān from Abū Hurayra that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said, "When the heat is fierce, delay the prayer until it gets cooler, for scorching heat comes from the blast of Jahannam."

He added, "The Fire complained to its Lord, so He allowed it two breaths in each year, a breath in the winter and a breath in summer."

29 Yaḥyā related to me from Mālik from Abū az-Zinād from al-A'raj from Abū Hurayra that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said, "When the heat is fierce, wait until it gets cooler before you do the prayer, for scorching heat comes from the blast of Jahannam."

1.8 Not entering the mosque smelling of garlic and not covering the mouth in prayer

30 Yaḥyā related to me from Mālik from Ibn Shihāb from Saʿīd ibn al-Musayyab that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said, “Anyone who eats this plant should not come near our mosques. The smell of the garlic will offend us.”

31 Yaḥyā related to me from Mālik from ‘Abd ar-Raḥmān ibn al-Mujabbar that he used to see Sālim ibn ‘Abdullāh pull the cloth away fiercely from the mouth of any man he saw covering his mouth while praying.