Established in 1975 and, after an interim, re-established in 2009, Diwan Press publish classical and contemporary books on Islam and Sufism simultaneously in North America, the United Kingdom and Australia, and through online retailers sells all over the world, from Brazil to India and Japan.

Our most recent publications include the ongoing translation of world famous tafsir of al-Qurtubi, of which to date the Introduction and eight volumes have been published, republications of The Hundred Steps and The Book of Tawhid of Shaykh Dr. Abdalqadir as-Sufi, and The Four Gems of Tasawwuf by Shaykh Ibn 'Ajibah, and a volume comprising a substantial portion of his Iqadh al-Himam commentary on the Hikam of Ibn 'Ata'illah al-Iskanderi, and, our most recent volume Robert Luongo's The Gold Thread – Ezra Pound's Principles of Good Government & Sound Money.

The flagships of our catalogue are The Noble Qur'an – a new rendering of its meanings in English (published by Ta-Ha Publishing of London). Then there are the Muwatta of Imam Malik and Muhammad Messenger of Allah (ash-Shifa) by Qadi 'Iyad all translated by by Aisha Bewley and edited by Abdalhaqq Bewley.

Diwan Press specialise in works on the fiqh of the School of Madina as transmitted by Imam Malik such as The Risalah of Ibn Abi Zayd al-Qayrawani of which we have also published a bi-lingual edition, and on the Tasawwuf of the Sunna such as the Diwan of Shaykh Muhammad ibn al-Habib, and the famed Darqawi Way, which contains the letter of Shaykh Moulay al-'Arabi ad-Darqawi to his murids, of which a second edition is under preparation. Diwan Press also publish works dealing with the world situation today and its history and economics, both in the lands of the Muslims and the West, for example Democratic Tyranny and the Islamic Paradigm by Aisha Bewley, now with a serious update in 2025. Among the latter are some key works of Shaykh Dr. Abdalqadir as-Sufi such as Sultaniyya on the nature of political authority in Islam, and his Technique of the Coup de Banque on the foundation of the modern state in the French Revolution and the hand that finance plays in that today.

TAFSIR AL-QURTUBI

Certainly one of the greatest *tafsīr*s of them all, Diwan Press will publish the Tafsīr of al-Qurtubi in its entirety in the coming years insha'Allah. Abū 'Abdullāh Muḥammad ibn Aḥmad ibn Abī Bakr ibn Farḥ al-Anṣārī al-Khazrajī al-Andalusī Al-Qurṭubī (610-11 AH/1214 CE – 671 AH/1273 CE) was born in Cordoba in Spain, but moved in 1236 to Cairo in Egypt, where he lived until his death. He was Mālikī in fiqh, and although he composed other works he is most famous for this tafsīr.

7. Tafsir al-Qurtubi – Introduction

In this introduction, the author lays out some of the key themes of the Qur'an, and the sciences of tafsīr.

9. Tafsir al-Qurtubi – Vol. 2: Sūrat al-Baqarah 142 – 253

In Volume 2, the author continues through the second juz' (two *ḥizb*s) of Sūrat al-Baqarah, stopping to examine aḥkām/judgments in greater detail including the changing of the qiblah, ḥajj, retaliation, fasting, wills and bequests, menstruation, marriage and divorce, fighting in the Way of Allah, Ṭālūt and Jālūt, and lending Allah a generous loan, a list, however, which hardly does justice to the range of subject matter and depth of treatment.

10. Tafsir al-Qurtubi – Vol. 3: Juz' 3: Sūrat al-Baqarah 253 – Sūrah Āli 'Imrān 95

Among the important matters covered in this volume are extensive commentary on the Āyat al-Kursī

the greatest āyat in the Qur'an, the *āyat*s on usury and the longest āyat in the Qur'an which regulates credit and debt, among the very last revealed to the Messenger of Allah ﷺ the unparalleled *āyat*s that conclude Sūrat al-Baqarah, and the passage from Sūrah Āl 'Imrān that explicates the difference between *āyat*s containing clear judgements and others that are open to interpretation. There is of course, the eponymous theme of the sūrah, the family of 'Imrān: Maryam, her son 'Īsā, Zakariyyā' and his son Yaḥyā, peace be upon them all.

The tafsīr of the 4th juz' from Sūrah Āli 'Imrān āyah 96 and continuing to Sūrat an-Nisā' āyah 22, and covering topics such as the Battle of Uḥud.

In this volume, comprising the bulk of Sūrat an-Nisā' – from *āyat*s 23 – 176, there are many matters to do with the rights of women, marriage and divorce, marital relations and disputes and their resolution, and the laws of inheritance, but also jihad, a key āyah on governance, hypocrisy and īmān, and about 'Īsā the son of Maryam, peace be upon him, and the People of the Book.

13. Tafsir al-Qurtubi – Vol. 6

This volume covers Sūrat al-Mā'idah in its entirety. Among its subjects are the *āyāt*s on dietary matters. The sūrah also recounts the primordial event of the two sons of Adam and their strife. Perhaps the most substantial section is a sustained address to the People of the Book while also considering many issues to do with Muslims' relations with them. Then there is the great āyat announcing the completion of the dīn. The sūrah concludes with the account of the Prophet 'Īsā, peace be upon him, and his disciples and of the Table sent down from Heaven.

14. Tafsir al-Qurtubi – Vol. 7

This volume covers Sūrat al-An'ām – Cattle & Sūrat al-A'rāf – The Ramparts. Sūrat al-An'ām was revealed all at once except for six *āyat*s – because it constitutes a single argument – and it was accompanied by seventy thousand angels. It provides the basic premises for arguing against many false positions. Uṣūl ad-dīn is founded on it because it contains clear *āyat*s that refute the Qadariyyah proponents of free will who deny the Decree.

Sūrat al-A'rāf tells the stories of many of the Prophets and then treats the account of Mūsā and Hārūn ﷺ with Fir'awn and the Egyptians and then with Bani Israel at some length. 17 x 24.4 cm. 464 pages

Casebound ISBN 978-1-914397-23-3 £49.95
Paperback ISBN 978-1-914397-22-6 £39.95

15. Tafsir al-Qurtubi – Vol. 8

This volume covers the commentary on Sūrat al-Anfāl, including the events of the first battle of Islam, the Battle of Badr and topics arising from it,, then proceeds to Sūrat at-Tawbah, among whose most important themes are the rulings concerning the collection and distribution of zakāt, and the last expedition of the Messenger of Allah ﷺ against Rūm and the ever thorny issue of the hypocrites. That is followed by Sūrah Yūnus about the Prophet Yūnus who was sent to "a hundred thousand or more" who believed and affirmed the revelation, one of the most substantial events of its kind in history before our Prophet ﷺ and the people of Madinah.

16. Tafsir al-Qurtubi – Vol. 8

This volume includes the commentary on Sūrahs Hūd, Yūsuf, ar-Ra'd, Ibrāhīm, and al-Ḥijr. Hūd is famously majestic, the Sūrah which turned some of the hair of the Prophet, may Allah bless him and grant him peace, grey, whereas conversely Sūrah Yūsuf tells 'the best of stories' or 'the most beautiful of narratives' about the original 'sons of Isrā'īl – Banī Isrā'īl' whose descendants' histories would be so archetypal and, as the Muslims of their time, cause for reflection for the Muslims of this time. It is thus invaluable to see the story of this Prophetic family set against the background of the early Pharaonic state, which would also contribute a great deal to subsequent ages and our own in the realm of state-formation.

THE FATHOMLESS SEA – THE TAFSĪR OF SHAYKH IBN ʻAJĪBAH

18. The Fathomless Sea Vol. 1

Introduction, Surat al-Fātiḥah and Surat al-Baqarah

The project of publishing The Fathomless Sea – a Tafsir of the Illustrious Qur'an (Al-Baḥr al-Madīd fī tafsīr al-Qur'ān al-Majīd) is a major new venture for Diwan Press.

It draws on the tradition, for example the tafsirs al-Bayḍāwī and Ibn Juzayy al-Kalbī among others, clarifying the unitary science (tawḥīd), legal rulings (aḥkām), Arabic words and expressions, and the histories and narratives of the Noble Book. The author appends indications (ishārāt) to each passage on matters pertaining to the sulūk – wayfaring of people to knowledge (maʻrifah) of their Lord, and a great deal about those who have arrived

The author's work emerges from the North- and West-African and Andalusian transmission of the School of Madina that sees the dīn as an undivided unity of Islam, Iman and Ihsan and of sharīʻa, ṭarīqa and ḥaqīqa. The biography of the author shows how well-qualified he is to transmit this seamless integration.

Abū al-'Abbās Aḥmad ibn Muḥammad ibn al-Mahdī ibn 'Ajībah al-Ḥasanī (1161 – 1224 AH) was Ḥasanī by lineage, Tetouan was his abode, he gained knowledge in Fes, and he was Māliki by madhhab and Shādhilī by ṭarīqah. He gained the traditional learning of his time in fiqh, hadith, and Qur'anic sciences, and later took the ṭarīqah at the hands of his Shaykh al-Būzīdī, himself a murīd of Mawlay al-'Arabī ad-Darqāwi who directed the author to write this tafsīr and guided him on his approach in it.

In this volume, after the substantial introduction to the author's life and works, there is commentary on the Fātiḥah of the Book and Sūrat al-Baqarah.

26. The Risālah of Ibn Abī Zayd al-Qayrawānī – Arabic-English edition

Almost unique among the works of the 'ulama, this book, which for Malikis is THE Risalah, was written for children when the author was 17 years old. The sheer pedagogical audacity of introducing children to what is in effect a complete overview of life and human society escapes most people today.

The book is here matched by the outstanding lucidity of the translation which reveals a book written in a descriptive narrative style rather than in a didactic scholarly tone, making it breathtakingly accessible.

Along with the translation, this edition incorporates the Arabic text without vowellisation (tashkeel).

ECONOMICS AND MU'ĀMALĀT

58. BANKING - THE ROOT CAUSE OF THE INJUSTICES OF OUR TIME

The original 1987 Norwich seminar Usury: The Root Cause of the Injustices of Our Time, whose proceedings form the core of this work, had an extraordinary effect. After the endless analyses and altercations of left and right to which we were accustomed, here was an argument that went to the core of the matter in one bound, and yet did so with a degree of scholarship and indeed erudition that was not cavalier. The result was electric. It was also well before its time.

POLITICS & HISTORY

65. Sultaniyya

Sultaniyya is the definitive modern statement on leadership in Islam. 66. Technique of the Coup de Banque

In this seminal work, Shaykh Abdalqadir as-Sufi shows how the Muslim community alone can identify the enemy of Islam and life itself, indicating the bankers as the force to be stripped of their power and their magical usury expropriation of our wealth. The Muslims, he explains, must now acquire the technique of the Coup de Banque.

67. Democratic Tyranny and the Islamic Paradigm

This deeply researched work on the rise of the state from its earliest formulations in the works of Plato and Aristotle, through the Enlightenment thinkers, and its paradoxical transformation via 'democracy' into an increasingly totalitarian structure working at the behest of an oligarchy will be of great interest to the growing numbers of people rightly concerned at this alarming development. The author gives the most forthright exposition of the Islamic paradigm, which, with its stringent prohibition of usury, is fatal to oligarchic rule.

The book has been updated in 2025 with a telling preface on the new and speedily evolving global situation and the thinkers and actors who are shaping it.

The Political Writings of Shaykh Dr. Abdalqadir as-Sufi

What Dr. Riyad Asvat's book, Sufism, The Living Tradition, did in revealing Shaykh Abdalqadir as-Sufi's paramount influence on the intellectual life of contemporary Islam, this work does in uncovering his perhaps even more important role of re-evaluating and disclosing the true nature of the politics and commercial practices of Islam, the way that they have been subverted by the capitalist hegemony of the present age, and the unique possibility they offer for a viable future for a balanced and just human society.

69. Osmanli History and Institutions

By Prof. Dr. Mehmet Maksudoğlu

Western literature about the Osmanlı Devlet, however scholarly it may seem, comprises a huge monument of distortion. " ... for too long the Ottomans have been studied without use of any of their sources, resulting in serious distortion and error. No history of France would be considered methodologically sound and balanced if it were written on the basis of English and Italian observations." (Stanford J. Shaw and Ezel Kural Shaw) This book seeks to redress that imbalance..

72. Ian Dallas – Collected Works

A beautifully produced collection in two parts, Plays and Prose. The literary work of Scottish author Ian Dallas, for which he was awarded an Honorary Doctorate in 2001, traverses a startlingly wide range of topics from Wagner to Sufism, from myth and philosophy to modern politics. The cover depicts a classical image of a couple, and the creative bond between man and woman is a common theme running through all of Dallas' works. The partially autobiographical Introductions to the book's two parts provide a fascinating insight into a man whose writings operate at the most profound level of thinking, and whose work is original, inspiring and transformative.

73. The New Wagnerian

By Ian Dallas

In this essay on Wagner's musical and literary works, Ian Dallas unfolds Wagner's enlightening contribution to our understanding of the human condition and the psyche of modern man in his quest for freedom, historical renewal and civic harmony outside the zone of the political forces that exist in the world today. Interweaving philosophy, musical theory, history, bio-politics and literature, Dallas recognizes and identifies Wagner's central understanding that it is not structuralist authority, but what men and women are, which constitutes the basis of a free and just society, and that woman's true womanhood has a unique spiritual significance and role in that, an understanding that made Wagner a revolutionary at one blow.

75. The Gold Thread – Ezra Pound's Principles of Good Government & Sound Money

Ezra Pound was a warrior-poet of the twentieth century; a Homeric hero. Both his life and his writing remained true to this.

Robert Luongo's study of Pound's work shows that whenever men are truly free they will choose leaders from amongst themselves who have placed self-discipline and the preservation of values as their guiding principles. Natural order emerges whereby leadership becomes an "obligation binding on good men".

Free people will choose their own medium of exchange and not be tyrannized by having to use worthless paper that can change value according to the whims of a non-elected, usurious élite, whose goals remain outside the needs of the human community and Earth's natural laws.

An American, Robert Luongo spent his last years teaching Shakespeare in Dallas College, Cape Town, South Africa. He has written essays on Wilfred Scawen Blunt and other topics.

78. Islam & Technology and Science

The priority here given technology over science is not accidental. Ordinarily we think of technology as a product of science, but Heidegger's insight that the essence of technology is 'nothing technological' can give us access to see the enframing by which man himself is set upon and challenged to order the real as standing reserve. Then he finds himself also in that reserve – the labour market.

But then we must retrench to see man as Dasein – Being there, the being for whom the question of Being itself is fundamental, something that technological and scientific man has forgotten entirely, and that is all of us. This is the point of departure that leads to the possibility of overpassing the predicament of modern man.
